

Two Evans Officers Suspected of Negligence

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Two junior lieutenants in charge of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans the morning she was cut in two by the Australian carrier Melbourne were told today they are suspected of negligence.

Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C. Ramsey, 24, Long Beach, Calif., and Lt. (j.g.) James R. Hopson, 23, Kansas City, Kan., requested and received legal counsel through they were advised by the joint U.S.-Australian board investigating the collision that they had not been charged.

Lt. Ramsey was in charge and Lt. Hopson was steering until a few moments before the collision last week in which 74 American sailors perished.

Ramsey's attorney, Lt. Frederick F. Tilton of the Navy's Judge Advocate General's staff, asked for a recess until Wednesday for evaluation of the testimony to date. The board granted a continuance until Monday and said he could ask for further time then, if needed. Hopson then took the stand and gave testimony sharply at odds with that given earlier by the Melbourne's skipper, Capt. John P. Stevenson.

When Ramsey sat down before the board for the first time, the legal counsel told him, "You are suspected of having committed the offense of neglect hazarding a vessel of the armed forces."

It was the first such legal admonition at the hearing.

The board was called solely to determine the cause of the collision and has no punitive powers. It said Ramsey had the right to refuse to answer questions, to acquire a lawyer and to terminate his testimony at any time.

In testimony by the Melbourne skipper earlier in the day, Stevenson said the Evans would have avoided a collision by taking "just one" of several measures that he had provided.

That was the first time that responsibility for the collision was charged publicly against the Evans.

Stevenson said that written instructions had been issued in a handbook before the maneuvers began, that there had been discussions with ship commanders involved, practice maneuvers including the one being conducted at the time of the collision and last minute emergency measures just before the disaster.

Despite these precautions, he said, "the unbelievable happened."

First Units to Leave Vietnam Identified

SAIGON AP — The U.S. 9th Marine Regiment, the first American combat unit to enter the Vietnam war, and the 1st and 2nd Brigades of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division were named today as the first of 25,000 American troops being withdrawn.

A 25,000 man withdrawal to be completed by the end of August was announced Friday night but the specific identity of the units was not disclosed until today.

The 3rd Battalion of the 9th Marines arrived at Da Nang March 8, 1965. From this point the American troop strength grew to a high of 543,000, including the 9th Infantry Division which entered the war Dec. 19, 1966.

The three units being withdrawn will total about 16,000 troops. Some of them will begin leaving before mid-July.

While attention centered on the first major U.S. withdrawal sharp fighting broke out in scattered sections of the country. The 2nd Brigade of the 9th Division lost four men killed and 22 wounded when it came under heavy attack while making a river assault 45 miles southeast of Saigon.

The biggest setback for U.S. troops came just east of the rugged A Shau Valley early today when 40 to 50 North Vietnamese sappers hurling dynamite bombs and grenades smashed their way to the perimeter of an American brigade headquarters.

Eleven paratroopers were killed in the attack on the 10th Airborne Division firebase. Another 47 were wounded. U.S. headquarters said 31 North Vietnamese soldiers died in the attack.

First to Return Accept News With Disbelief

DONG TAM, South Vietnam (AP) — "I don't believe it. I just don't believe it."

That's what the jubilant "shorttimers" in the U.S. 9th Infantry Division were saying today after they heard that two of the unit's three brigades would be leaving Vietnam soon. For some the disbelief persisted even after their division commander issued a statement that the 9th, "less one brigade, will soon be returning home again from war."

But some of their buddies who still have several months of their one-year tour to go were less enthusiastic.

The U.S. Command has announced that the 1st and 2nd brigades will be the units shipped back stateside.

Maj. Gen. Harris W. Hollis, commander of the 9th Infantry, indicated there would be some reorganization to assure that the men who have served the most time in Vietnam would be among those going home first.

"As a general rule," Hollis said, "those who have completed the major portion of their normal tour may expect to be redeployed. Those who still have a significant period to serve before their 12-month tour will be completed can expect to remain in Vietnam under current guidelines."

Division officers were uncertain where the cut-off point would be set. They speculated that those who have served eight months in Vietnam could expect to leave and those with four or more months to go could expect to stay with the remaining brigade or be transferred to other units.

The troops, who always claim to know everything that happens at headquarters, had been betting the 2nd and 3rd brigades would be shipped out. One soldier even claimed to have seen a document saying everyone due to leave by September would go home with the two units.

For the men who thought they might be among the 9,000 in the division going home, Hollis's statement brought elation.

"When the announcement came," said Staff Sgt. Joseph Turner, 20, of Chattanooga, Tenn., "morale went up just like that."

Many soldiers felt that the expectation of leaving Vietnam would have not only a buoying effect on morale but also would limit the effectiveness of the troops in the field.

"If you think you are going home, you're not about to go out there and get your behind shot off," said one.

Their summer jobs in carpentry were obtained as a result of their work in the class.

Eleven Boys to Take Second Year in New Trade Course

Eleven boys successfully helped initiate a Buildings Trade Course in the vocational department at the Senior High School during the past school year, Jim Cornett, director of the vocational department, said Thursday.

The course, taught by Cline Ables, runs on a two-year basis, and is designed essentially to prepare students for a life's vocation. Boys enroll in the course for 2½ hours, five days a week.

Students are not required to take the second year of the course, but out of 14 boys who enrolled in the course during the past year, completed the first year and will finish the course next year.

An advantage of the course is that the first year's work teaches the students enough about the building trade to work during the summer.

Each boy who took the course during the past term is working in Sikeston this summer, and can earn enough money to return to school in September and buy some school clothes.

During their first year's work in the course, the boys constructed a two - bedroom house with masonite siding and brick wainscoting in the front.

The students build the house in 34 sections inside a building at the grade school. Then, it was bolted together, and moved to Ford Street, where it is now. Recovery Inc. has purchased the house and plans to sell it. Several inquiries have been made about the house, but no specific plans for selling have been made yet, W. Raymeyer Miller, president of Recovery Inc. said today. The house will sell for approximately $10,000, Miller said.

"There has been a need for a course like this for a long time," Cornett said. There are courses similar to this around the state, but this one is better since it is constructed as a learning situation rather than a working situation, he said.

The first four weeks of the course is classroom work only. After that, practical application is tied in with classroom work. Three textbooks are used in the course, and tests are given periodically.

Courses similar to the Buildings Trade Course which are offered in other communities are structured so participants get practical experience included. Classroom experience helps the students better learn the material and learn it more thoroughly, Cornett said.

Boys who completed the first year of the course are Dale Stovall, Joe Carlock, Josh Howard, Tommy Winfield, Clint Holman, Lee Payne, Johnny Carter, Larry Lawrence, Allen Yates, Gary Byrd, and Dale Lewis.

"The progress and interest of the students is gratifying," Ables said.

Nixon Administration Claims New Wiretapping Powers

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON AP — The Nixon administration has claimed broad new powers to use wiretapping against organizations and persons it suspects of trying to "foment violent disorders" across the nation.

Moreover, the Justice Department contended Friday, the government does not have to secure court approval before installing electronic surveillance devices in such domestic cases. In a memorandum filed in U.S. District Court in Chicago, the department admitted bugging at least five of eight anti-war demonstrators charged with conspiracy in connection with disorders during the 1969 Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

It said the wiretaps were designed to gather "foreign intelligence information" and to collect information "deemed necessary to protect the nation from attempts of domestic organizations to use unlawful means to attack and subvert the existing structure of the government."

Both types of surveillance, the government said, were perfectly legal and were carried out under "the inherent power of the President" to engage in any intelligence gathering operations he "believes are necessary to protect the security of the nation."

Such presidential authority, relegated to the attorney general, has long been recognized in cases of wiretapping for foreign intelligence purposes.

"There can be no doubt," the government said, "that there are in this country organizations which intend to use force and other illegal means to attack and subvert the existing form of our government."

"Moreover, in recent years, there have been an increasing number of instances in which federal troops have been called upon by the states in the suppression of riots.

"Faced with such a state of affairs," the department

MOREHOUSE — Tommy I. B. (Mary Elizabeth) McNew Jr., both of Morehouse, two brothers, Sonny Elliott, Chicago, Ill., and Ted A. Elliott, Sikeston, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Phillips, Sunton, Ala.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Sunday in Watkins and Sons Funeral Chapel, with he Rev. James Estep, officiating. Burial will be in Garden of Memories cemetery in Sikeston.

Two other accidents involving three tractor - trailer trucks occurred Friday. Two drivers were injured.

At 5:15 p.m. on highway 67, 13 miles south of Poplar Bluff, a southbound 1960 White tractor trailer driven by Robert Canady, 34, Ozark, Ark., slid into the path of a northbound 1967 International tractor trailer driven by William Millster, 35, Flat River. Canady was forced to apply his brakes when an unknown vehicle stopped in front of him.

Millster received cuts and scratches and was taken to Poplar Bluff hospital.

In an accident at 10:15 p.m. Friday, three miles north of Cape Girardeau on I-55, Marvin Warren, 37, Valley Park, driver of a 1959 International tractor trailer, received possible internal injuries and was taken to Southeast Missouri hospital, Cape Girardeau.

The state patrol aid he apparently went to sleep, lost control, went off of the highway and overturned. He was driving a truck belonging to Harts Bread. Damage was estimated at $3000.

Grant For Day Care Centers

Washington, D. C. — The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved $40,000 to the Delta Area Economic Opportunity Corporation in Portageville, Missouri, for six day care centers. Senators Thomas F. Eagleton and Stuart Symington announced this week.

These centers will provide day care services for 180 children of low income families throughout Dunklin, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Scott, and Stoddard Counties. The program is scheduled to be in operation for six months beginning August, 1969.

NATO Policy Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Harlan Cleveland, U.S. envoy to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization during the Johnson administration, is said, is Nixon's proposal for pooling know-how among North Atlantic Treaty Organization members on such problems as city congestion and air pollution.

"I think it is a very important dimension," he said. "I think the real strength of the West lies not only in the maintenance of our (military) deterrent ... it depends on the success of western societies in meeting their own problems ..."

"In most industrial societies, including our own, really important questions are being asked whether all of our wealth and affluence is going to produce grotesque societies, which people won't regard as worth defending, or whether people are going to have vibrant, vital society which people are determined to defend."

Cleveland, named to the NATO position in 1965 after serving as an assistant secretary of state during the Kennedy administration, stayed on the job until this month at the new administration's request pending arrival of his Republican successor, Robert Ellsworth.

His next post will be at Honolulu where he has been named to head the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii.

He was taken to Missouri Delta Community hospital by McMikle ambulance.

Two Climbers Injured

YELLOW STONE NATIONAL PARK (AP) — Two young mountain climbers were injured late Friday in a fall down a steep slope in Lewis River Canyon.

They were identified as Beverly Knight, 18, daughter of James L. Knight, president of the Miami (Fla.) Herald, and Bill Anceney of Gallatin Gateway, Mont.

A Yellowstone National Park spokesman said the two were roped together while climbing when one of them slipped, pulling the other about 200 feet down the canyon slope.

Fire Damage Yale Building

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The modern Art and Architecture building at Yale University was heavily damaged by fire early today. Officials estimated damage could amount to more than $1 million.

The school's dean, Howard Weaver, said the fourth through seventh floors were the most seriously harmed. They were areas used for painting and architecture courses, he said, and contained drafting tables and plywood partitions.

John N. Mitchell listed the Chicago defendants who were over-heard by government agents through wiretaps.

They included Ronnie C. Davis and Jerry C. Rubin, leaders of the Youth International Party or "Yippies"; David T. Dellinger, head of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Noting that the Fourth Amendment prohibits only "unreasonable searches and seizures," the government claimed wiretaps in domestic security cases could not be considered unreasonable.

In an affidavit accompanying the memorandum, Atty. Gen.

Bobby G. Seale, cofounder of the Black Panthers and Thomas E. Hayden an organizer and former secretary of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Other demonstrators charged in connection with the Chicago violence were Abbie H. Hoffman, another Yippie leader, and two college professors - Lee Weiner of Chicago and John R.

Forines of Eugene, Ore.

Mitchell did not disclose if the three were also targets of government wiretaps.

Stolen Truck Recovered

CHARLESTON — A 1950 Chevrolet pickup truck was recovered one hour after it was stolen from Cecil Sidney, while parked at Budweiser Cafe on Marshall street, last night at 10:52 p.m.

Deputy sheriff Gordon Gilmore and auxiliary policeman Walter Welch, found the vehicle parked on route K.

A juvenile was arrested and charged with the theft, and is being held in the Mississippi county jail.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS! CONGLOMERATE LABOR UNIONS

The monopolistic labor unions are branching out. They have announced grandiose plans that call for real estate developing, political pressure group forming and strike bank rolling.

This makes them more of a conglomerate than many of the so-called business conglomerates being looked into currently by several committees of Congress. Yet, no one has announced a major look-see at union practices. There has been more footdragging in the unions in the fields of social action and anti-inflationary practices than in all businesses combined.

How about an enlightened investigation into the power structures and economic practices of some of our major union organizations?

Their arrogance, particularly exemplified by their recent booing and jeering at a speech given by George Romney, the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, indicates their feeling of immunity from any sort of Congressional action.

Do you remember: Two years ago Cassius Clay was convicted and received a sentence of 5 years and a $10,000.00 fine.

We wonder if any of our readers can tell us if he has ever served a day or paid a dollar of the fine.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH FEELING PROUD?

What's wrong with feeling proud when you see your country's flag? What's wrong with getting a little choked up?

There are those who will tell you that honor to the flag is out of style, is old-fashioned, is unsophisticated.

But taking pride in "Old Glory" . . . gathering an extra surge of courage from its bright, rippling folds . . . was not out of style at far-off places like Chapultepec and San Juan Hill and Chateau Thierry and Iwo Jima and Hill No. 875.

And it isn't out of style right here and now, either.

So go ahead. Lift your hat or put your hand to your heart when your nation's flag goes by. You're a better American and a better human being when you do.

We were so liberal in giving the United Kingdom or England's or British possessions away that we are wondering just why the United States hesitates to give Okinawa to the Japanese.

Remember? or do you want to forget that our country, and we love it, helped every country in the world which had colonies to give them their freedom.

The man with an eye for figures isn't necessarily an accountant.

THE LADIES, BLESS 'EM

The international Democratic Federation of Women, with headquarters in East Berlin, will be discussing rights of their sex at a World Congress of Women in Helsinki beginning Saturday, June 14. The status of women in the United States is expected to receive little if any consideration.

At the end of the last century, not a single nation had granted women political rights. Today more than 100 nations extend equal or limited rights to women. More impressive than their complete political equality is the economic status of American women. Although women's salaries, by and large, are still lower than men's, they are rising faster. Women's earnings, according to the Census Bureau, exceed $85 billion annually.

The Institute of Life Insurance says that American women received two-thirds of the $5.7 billion paid out in insurance benefits in 1967. Their Social Security payments come to $9.3 billion a year. Women make up more than 51 per cent of the nation's individual stockholders; the market value of their holdings is estimated at $119 billion. It is sometimes reported that women control 75 per cent of the nation's private assets, but this figure cannot be documented.

Without women employees, industry would come to a crashing halt. The 1964 Civil Rights Act under Title 7 prohibits discrimination in employment on the grounds of sex as well as of color, race, religion, or national origin. And now we have women jockeys. At the start of the 1960s, there were 1,985,000 more women and girls than men and boys in the United States. The 1970 Census will show 4 million more females than males -- a tribute to their health as well as their wealth.

We might call the attention of the Missouri Legislature to a first page news article in the Daily Standard of Thursday, June 12th, where one hundred and one speeding fines brought the magistrate court $5,670.00.

These were all radar arrests on Interstate 55. 70 miles per hour may be the legal and safe speed limit but as we have said before, "no one drives it unless they want every other car on the highway to pass them up."

WHOSE FLAG ON THE MOON?

A rumor has been circulating since the successful flight of Apollo X. The rumor is that when the first American astronauts land on the moon's surface, if indeed we are first to make a landing and there is every indication that we will be, they will raise the flag of the United Nations, instead of Old Glory.

Louisiana Rep. John Rarick is quite concerned about the rumor and has written to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) about it.

In a speech in the House of Congressman said: "Certainly the aerospace program is a U. S. commitment, made possible only by U. S. tax dollars, U. S. technology and the fearlessness of the U. S. astronauts - some of whom have given their lives in this cause. To raise any other than the U. S. flag would be dishonest and inappropriate. When our men land on the moon, history and national pride demand that Old Glory be raised there."

"I ask that our colleagues join in insisting that the flag of the United States be permanently emplaced on the moon - and that this flag be one flown first over the U. S.

NEED CRACKDOWN ON TAX-EXEMPT FOUNDATIONS

Since the Nixon administration as well as Congress has indicated that they are investigating the use of foundation funds for things other than what the foundations were given tax-exempt operations originally, most editors find ourselves being swamped with fancy-printed reports from The Rockefeller Foundation and the Ford Foundation, just to name a few.

For instance, the Ford Foundation which is headed by McGeorge Bundy has been exposed by Rep. Henry Gonzales (D.Tex.) as contributing funds to newly invented groups with views "generally unaccepted and unpopular" with most Mexican-Americans. He cited Ford's grant of funds to the Militant Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) which "distributes literature that can only be described as hate sheets, designed to inflame passions and reinforce old wounds or open new ones; these sheets spew forth racism and hatred."

Also, a Human Events report has exposed the grants of more than $300,000 from the Ford Foundation going to staff members of the late Sen. Robert Kennedy who now are quietly working for the future presidential candidacy of Ted Kennedy. This is charity?

We believe funds from more other foundations will be found being used to support militants who have brought violence to our streets and campuses which has been indicated in previous reports.

Now it is time for a thorough investigation by Congress and the Department of Justice and crackdown on the foundation offenders who are not worthy of the trust given them by the founders nor the government's tax-exemption which has allowed them to wheel and deal.

Capitol."

NASA's assistant administrator for legislative affairs, Robert Allnutt, in a letter replying to the question of Rep. Rarick said that NASA was in the process of considering what "symbolic articles, such as flags, emblems, or other articles," would be carried on the historic flight, including items to be left there on the lunar surface. He said that NASA was taking into account suggestions from outside the agency.

We agree with Congressman Rarick. The space program has been a total commitment of the citizens of the U. S. The cost has been borne largely by the little people who pay more than their fair share of taxes. A number of U. N. members have heaped abuse on everything this nation has accomplished, both on earth and in space. But it is our astronauts who will achieve this goal. We will probably share the benefits of this achievement with our fellowmen, but the laurels belong to the American people. It was this nation that wept when three courageous astronauts died on the launch pad in a tragic accident. These men wore the uniform of this nation. A uniform that has borne the nation's colors into space. These colors should be given a place on the moon, above all others.

Charlie Watson says this is his thought for today: Taxation without representation was tyranny, but it was a lot cheaper than the 20th century variety.

Stage fright is one thing about which there is no shame.

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

-Thieu: No Coalition-

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson reported June 7 that there big obstacle to a settlement in Vietnam would be admitting the communists into a coalition government. They reported that Thieu was adamantly opposed to a coalition with the Communists but that he was willing to let the Communists vote in an internationally supervised election.

President Thieu, on his return to Saigon, announced his willingness to let the communists vote but his uncompromising opposition to a coalition government--exactly as reported by Pearson and Anderson.

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson say: Liberals at disadvantage in Manhattan mayoralty race; crime situation is biggest issue; proaccino forces ahead despite graft in his office

WASHINGTON--A primary election for Mayor of the nation's largest city is coming up next week, with crime, racial friction and student turmoil the big issues. And, as in Los Angeles, the right-wing backlash will probably decide who will be elected.

The amazing fact is that because of right-wing, semi-fascist reaction, Mayor John Lindsay, a liberal republican, is in serious danger. Ordinarily, a sitting mayor faces opposition only from the opposite party, not from within his own.

But the crime situation in New York, with 29,000 aggravated assaults last year, 54,000 robberies, 173,000 burglaries and 1,840 reported rapes is made to order for right-wing Republican state Sen. John Marchi. He is giving Lindsay the fight of his life.

Furthermore, Rep. Jim Scheuer and ex-mayor Robert Wagner, both liberal democrats, are trailing hard-nosed conservative Democrat Mario Procaccino.

Procaccino is the loudest shouter about crime in the streets, despite the fact that his own comptroller's office has serious graft problems.

Rep. Scheuer, on the other hand, is one of the few members of Congress who have done something constructive about crime prevention. Two years ago in the House of Representatives he introduced a bill setting up an institute of crime prevention inside the justice department to modernize police methods and crime control. With the help of Sen. Teddy Kennedy and several republicans, the bill passed and is now law.

-To Walk The Streets Safely-

In addition, Scheuer has written a thoughtful, well-reviewed book "To Walk The Streets Safely," which constructively diagnoses the whole problem of crime. Scheuer proposes the use of computers, bio-chemistry and quick transportation to solve crime.

He points out that the chances of apprehending a criminal double if the police can get to the scene within one minute rather than two or three minutes later. To this end he advocates putting disabled war veterans in police stations to man the telephones and keep records, leaving trained, able-bodied cops to operate on the crime front.

Scheuer urges that all police be taken off towing, traffic ticketing and paper work and that they be used 100 per cent for crime fighting.

Scheuer points out that only one per cent of the police force is assigned to the narcotics problem, despite the fact that it produces over one-half of all violent personal crime in New York, such as the muggings, purse-snatchings and burglaries which are now terrorizing New Yorkers.

The Congressman also points out that 1,000 police are now assigned to non-victim-crimes without a victim--such as gambling, alcoholism, prostitution and the private rackets of consenting adults. He proposes that these men be assigned to the violent crime front.

Despite Scheuer's thoughtful approach to crime, it's the candidates who yell the loudest about crime who have the most political progress in New York. Comptroller Procaccino boils the complex crime issue down to whether you are "A good guy or a bad guy." He promises to get rid of the bad guys by restoring the death penalty, abolished in New York in 1967, and criminally prosecuting 13-year-olds.

-Procaccino's Skeltons-

His campaign has taken hold, despite the fact that law enforcement inside his own

An Editor's Outlook

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones

THE AWFULLEST CITY

CALCUTTA--One of the 50 largest cities of the world I've missed only two that are not locked away in the forbidden reaches of Red China. And the awfullest city I know is Calcutta. Bombay at least has the ocean, Cairo its wonderful past, and the fetid favellas of Rio de Janeiro look down on the world's noblest harbor.

Calcutta has no virtue. It is an unrelieved human disaster to be approached with apprehension, endured with disgust and departed from with joy. Kipling said: "Above this packed and pestilential town Death looks down." And Joseph Lelyveld writing in the New York Times, described Calcutta bluntly as "a great machine, where the gears always grind, but never mesh."

YET three times I have come, drawn by almost hypnotic fascination. You go away and after awhile you cannot believe what you saw. You return and it is worse. Calcutta has achieved the impossible--starting at the bottom and descending.

Its evil reputation is well known and it is the last-visited great city in the world. Foreign tourists (and India got only a pathetic 189,000 of them last year) shun it. While tall, steel luxury hotels rise like mushrooms through Southeast Asia, Calcutta's two main hostleries have been decaying gently for three-quarters of a century and the imposing turbaned Sikh doormen cannot drive the beggars and grifters from the doors.

YET it is one of the most important cities of the world to visit. Those of us who are chamber of commerce types should come to it and ponder. Too many of us still confuse population with progress. Like our pioneer and ancestors, we count the wagons coming in as against the wagons going out, and we congratulate ourselves that our towns are healthy if they are growing.

Calcutta points a bony finger at the future. The proliferation of human beings is no good if you only get an ant hill. Where charity and compassion fail and hope evaporates, the crowd becomes a monster. Mostly, man squats upon his hams, living out his days in futility. Occasionally, he riots briefly and to no purpose.

IT IS 5:45 a.m. and I walk the back streets off the Chowringhee, stepping over the sleeping bodies scattered like cordwood along the curbs. The flies play in and out of the mouth of a boy who doesn't even have a cloth to live on.

A crazy old woman (old? she could be 35) leans upon a stick with one lank breast hanging through her tattered sari and babbles to no one.

Already a leprous child, its blind eyes puffed into horrible deformity, beats upon a tin drum and raises his voice in a keening song, stopping occasionally to grope upon his blanket for coins.

These are the homeless. They wash at the corner pumps. They die, and after hours of reproachful immobility under the burning sun a policeman pauses and the body is carted away like garbage to the municipal crematory.

IN THE rising prosperity of New Asia pedicabs are now banned from the streets of Taipei and Bangkok. In Calcutta the human rickshaw puller can only dream of a pedicab. From your high seat you count his ribs as he trots the long mile back to the hotel. He overcharges you, wanting two rupees (25 cents) and you give him three. He touches his forehead. His day is made.

Since February Calcutta has been ruled by a Communist-led coalition of the Left. Here and there tattered red flags fly. But the Communists are split three ways into nationalist, pro-Moscow and pro-Peking wings, and they don't seem to have the foggiest idea of what to do now that they have power.

One of their members, Jyoti Basu, has assumed the post of deputy chief minister and has already disenchanted many of his followers.

"He no longer speaks clearly of dialectics," said one, "but only wants to talk of the garbage in the streets."

THIS contempt for the practical and fascination with the abstract is the curse of India, and most particularly of the Bengalis, who pride themselves on being philosophers and mystics. The Red Left has its chief strength among "intellectuals" who embrace the principles of collectivism because it would mean more government office jobs, more power, more prestige for the educated elite who would rather die than get their hands dirty.

All that the new government of West Bengal has succeeded in doing so far is halt the small trickle of private investment in the state. Even Calcutta companies are planning their expansions elsewhere. In the meantime, the commerce in the port is slowly going down.

Neither the rich nor the Reds in Calcutta really seem to give a damn about the poor. And that's the most terrible thing of it all is that you can hardly blame them. IF ALL the wealthy Bengalis gave all their gold to the commonwealth if their ladies hocked their jewels for the benefit of the poor, it would be a glass of fresh water poured into a dead, salt sea.

One-quarter of the children are in school. One-third of the buses and trams are always out of service. One-half of the tap water comes raw and foul from the Hooghly River, and the new housing falls short of need by 30,000 units a year.

IF P O P E P A U L VI had ever spent a week in Calcutta he would never have painted himself deeper into the corner on birth control. Here mastery of plagues has only hastened the disintegration of society. Here charity can only even out the landscape of despair.

Let all the world look upon the lesson of Calcutta. For when human values die a city is better buried by Vesuvius or swept away by Mongols.

in front of the village store.

A visitor, inquiring of Jake one morning, "Jake is Abner older than you?"

Jake: "Yep, nigh onto two years older."

Visitor: "Is he taller than you?"

Jake: "Don't know."

Visitor: "That's funny and you have lived in the same house with him every day for over 20 years!"

Jake: "Ain't never seen him standing up."

One Hump or Two? The bosomy stout single woman of forty had to do something, so she took a first aid course. She was so enthusiastic about the chance to be useful she just couldn't wait to find a chance to use her first aid technics.

So when she saw a man lying face down in the street, she rushed over and straddled him and put her hands on each side of his back -- just the way she had been taught -- and started humping up and down.

The man finally twisted around enough to say to her, "Lady, I sympathize with your problem, but I've got to get this wire down this manhole!"

I've got an idea," said the attractive wife to her husband. "Let's got out tonight and have some real fun."

"Suits me," he answered. "If you get home first, leave the light on in the hallway."

Surely you've heard of chug-chug girls. They're go-go girls over 40.

A Tell-Tale Sign "HOW DID YOU GET that scar across the bridge of your nose?"

"From glasses." "Why don't you get contact lenses?" "They don't hold enough beer!"

After being reprimanded for spending mistakes the secretary exploded, "Well, all I can say is . . . I wish you could trade places and see if you could do any better." "I probably could do better," said the boss, "but I could never trade places . . . I couldn't drink that much coffee!"

The young college physician was bewildered by the procession of unhappy coeds regularly visiting his office for a pregnancy test. "There seems to be something in the air this time of year that causes young girls to get pregnant," he commented to an older colleague. "What is it, I wonder?"

"Their legs," replied his friend. A cynic stopped before a grave in a cemetery, which had a tombstone declaring: "Here lies a lawyer and an honest man."

"Who'd ever think," he murmured, "there'd ever be room for two men in that one little grave."

The little old lady hadn't seen her grandsons in more than a year. Hearing they were coming to visit her for a week, she expressed her thanks by putting $5 in the collection plate at church.

The next Sunday, after the grandsons had left, she put in $10. Two housewives were watching a television program dealing with deceptive packaging in local markets and the woman lecturer grew quite annoyed as she read her report.

One of the housewives said to her companion, "Yeah, she would know about 'deceptive packaging.' She's wearing false eyelashes, eye shadow, stage make-up, plucked eyebrows, a girdle and a fancy wig . . . and maybe a padded bra!"

Doc. Duncan Says

We have been trying to figure out what ails the fish in 69. We find its plenty in our diggings three dry years in succession too much farm chemicals polluting the streams, too much management that ignores mother nature, no fish ladders at dams to permit fish to return to their usual spawning grounds above the dams, they can only mill around in the setting basin to be slaughtered by gars, too much mismanagement by the ever-present political appointees, attempts to destroy rough fish the sport and food for 90% of the people, most true fishermen agree, when they do away with carp they do away with the peoples fishing and leave the game fish as the only source of food for turtles, gar, big catfish and other destroyers.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

POSITIVELY NO CONTROLS: White House Sees 600,000 New Jobless By October - Then a Glide to Full Prosperity.

Washington, D.C. -- Now the hysteria can simmer down. There is no more chance that President Nixon will ever seek a wage-price freeze than there is of Hades icing over -- barring a world war. That's certain, absolute and positive.

Fact is, that one of Mr. Nixon's truly weighty advisers said, soon after he heard Secretary of The Treasury David Kennedy urge wage-price controls as a possible anti-inflation weapon, "that man has foot-in-mouth disease."

Furthermore, Mr. Nixon and Paul McCracken (Chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers) have not spent 10 minutes seriously considering such ceilings since the day the Administration took office.

After conversations with White House intimates of the President, it is accurate to reflect Mr. Nixon's policy and philosophy as follows:

The President is a careful driver. He doesn't jam on the breaks while his vehicle is speeding over ice, thick or thin. He'll do nothing dramatic or startling -- and that's dramatic news in itself.

The pressure will be gradual. Mr. Nixon well knows that swift pumping of the employed into a huge pool of jobless would throw the nation's ghettos into raw and brutal depression.

Unhappily, there will be more unemployment -- at least another 500,000 to 600,000 by next October. But that's unavoidable. Mostly that unemployment will hit white-collar people, technicians, and middle-class workers. By the end of October the total joblessness will be inching past the 3.2-million mark.

There will be an outcry. Prices will be rising. Money will still be tight. Imports will be deluging the country. "Things" will be bad -- and noisy.

The opposition will have a propaganda field day. The Democrats will thunder. The liberals will assault. The intellectuals of our world will unite and fight. Labor will protest.

But by next spring -- just about a year from now -- the White House expects "it" will all level off. And by the end of 1970 Mr. Nixon expects the nation to be back to full prosperity under stable prices.

He does not believe there will be a recession. He is positive there'll be no depression. As one of his aides put it, "there's nothing like gradual gradualism."

To attempt wage-price controls now would thrust Richard Nixon into the role of Britain's laborite Prime Minister Harold Wilson. Her Majesty's eloquent first minister has tried this. He finds that even the awe of the government's power can't control shop stewards, much less the unions themselves.

Mr. Nixon, for example, hardly sees himself dueling with local building and construction trades business agents and local officials. Wage-price controls would force him and his Cabinet's key men into just that Quixotic posture.

In this District itself, the President can see "skyscrapers" standing gaunt and skeletonized by a carpenters' strike which started May 1. Excavation work has been paralyzed on the FBI's new headquarters site. The Southeast Freeway is stalled. Construction on at least seven other large buildings and one plaza is crippled. Builders demand a wage-benefit package of $3 an hour over a three-year contract -- or, on a 40-hour base, a $120 hike per week per man after the second year.

In Eastern Massachusetts brother carpenters struck for $126 increase per man per week over a two-year pact.

In Wilmington, Del., millwrights have been striking for a $228 weekly wage increase per man per week over a two-year contract (a rate which would start after the first year).

In Wyoming, iron workers have struck for $164.80 weekly increase per man per week over a two-year compact.

And yet there are observers who've said that Mr. Nixon would not face a major strike threat until 1970 or 1971. Well, there now are 200,000 craftsmen out on strike.

That's mighty major. Especially since the $99 billion building and construction field is the nation's largest homogeneous industry.

These demands and stoppages don't insinuate that all construction union chiefs or local leaders won't cooperate with the government or contractors. It does mean that there are some mighty tough local men in some mighty strategic positions. And they're not about to be argued out of any thing.

So in addition to President Nixon's distaste for wage-price federal controls, and for the machinery for policing any such legislation, Mr. Nixon just doesn't see himself and his aides going into battle on a thousand fronts.

One White House colleague summed it all up simply with, "There's zero chance for controls, wage-price or anything like that. We're just going to continue doing what we're doing."

Preludes To Appear Here Tomorrow

The Preludes, representing Anderson (Ind.) College, will appear here at Tanner St. Church of God, on Sunday, June 15, it has been announced by the Rev. Vernon Guttenfelder, pastor. The program beginning at 10:40 a.m. will consist of sacred songs, hymns, spirituals and folk music.

Members of the group are Chris Clay, Kendallville, Ind.; Sylvia Niles, Sikeston; Merline Trexler, Dodge City, Kans.; Marjorie Morris, Flint, Mich. These students are a part of some 145 students involved in Student Summer Service (Tri-S) projects around the world.

The group's summer schedule will include concerts in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, and Iowa.

A get-acquainted dinner with the young people of the Tanner St. Church of God is being arranged by Bonnie Niles, Youth Counselor and will be held at noon Sunday in the Fellowship Room.

Anderson College is sponsored by the Church of God. Enrollment during 1968-69 exceeded 1600, with students representing 42 states and several countries. In addition to the liberal arts program, pre-professional training is offered in many areas.

Invitation For Area Witnesses

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area have been invited to attend an eight-day International
Assembly to be held in Kansas
City July 18-25.

According to local representatives, some 36,000 delegates will attend the gathering at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. Although the majority of delegates will come from the Midwest, some from Germany, Venezuela,
India, Peru, Mexico, Korea and Canada have sent requests for accommodations to Convention
Headquarters.

The Kansas City assembly is one of 7 such meetings in the United States this summer, with 25 scheduled in various countries around the world.
They all have the theme: "Peace on Earth." The convention's major address, "The Approaching Peace of a Thousand Years," reflects their belief that true peace will come to this earth in the near future.
It will be delivered by N. H.
Knorr, president of the Watch
Tower Society, the organization which directs the worldwide activities of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mother Tired Of Chaufffering --So, Quit!

Dear Ann Landers: I know you must get many letters from mothers who write about their sons' hair. I am writing about my daughter's.

Wendy is 16. Her hair is straight and hangs down to the middle of her back. It's nice chestnut brown. But it's only hair. It's not spun gold. Wendy brushes it. She washes it. She meets the needs and abilities of
it. Yes, I said it. Wendy is on the handicapped children. The all the girls do it. It's a wonder also receive much individual attention from the camp staff.

There will be one staff worker for every two children.

The camp will be directed by Elder Richard A. Smith. It's Missionary and District president for the SMO District. John Booth, administrator for the Central States Region and a camp staff member with much experience, will be the assistant director. Doctor Margaret Booth, a Cerebral Palsy specialist shall pass.

Dear Ann Landers: My girl friend and I were having a lounge after work on Friday.

The place was crowded as usual.
An attractive guy was sitting alone in a booth opposite us. My

Revival To Begin On Monday

The First Assembly of God,
306 South Kingshighway
announces their summer revival crusade with evangelist Charles
M. E. Duncombe, June 15-22.

Service schedule is as follows: Monday through Friday
- 7:30 P.M. (No Saturday service) and Sunday School 9:30
A.M. There will be a special visual demonstration presented by our evangelist in a united assembly in the auditorium from 9:30-10:00 a.m. followed by a lesson in the class rooms from 10:00-10:30, preaching service
10:30 A.M. and 7:00 P.M.

The evangelist is a noted
Bible scholar, youth worker, musician, singer, and preacher who was born and raised in England; was Christened and Confirmed by the Bishop of London in St. Peter's church
(Episcopalian). He was converted and filled with the Holy Spirit
under the ministry of George Jeffries, ordained in The Assemblies of God of Great Britain in 1930.

Following attendance at Stratford Bible College in London; he pastored seven churches, and later, while evangelizing, founded several churches and one orphanage;
serves as civil defence chaplain
during the bombings of London during World War Two. Both his and his wife's parents homes were destroyed in these bombings. He was a well known soccer and cricket player and traveled throughout Europe
before entering the ministry.

Mr. Duncombe came to America in 1953 and traveled throughout the United States as an evangelist for about six years before becoming cofounder in the Mid-West Bible Institute in Webb City, Missouri where he taught Bible for five years. On leaving that college, he founded the Trinity Bible College in Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1964.

When he is not confined to the school, he is engaged in evangelistic crusades. His last meeting before coming to Sikeston was in Dallas, Texas.

The public is invited and urged to attend this Crusade. T.
A. McDonough is pastor.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 2

Sister Barbara Mitchell, Order of the Sacred Heart, was one of three representing the Roman Catholic faith at the Spiritual Summit Conference in Calcutta, India. To Sister Barbara the five-day meeting of the 30 distinguished spiritual leaders, representing two and a half billion adherents to 11 world religions was an inspiring experience.

She said, "The most important thing about it was that it happened and it could be done. It proved we are all human beings first... how easy it was to find the common denominator and easy to accept."

Sister Barbara, conscious of the relevance of religion to the modern world because of her work with young people at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart, Purchase, N. Y., was interested in observing the young people at the conference. They made their presence felt in a quiet reverent way. On the last evening of the conference the students proposed a closing prayer from thirteen of the participants.

In succession a representative from each religion stepped forward, lit a candle and said a prayer. When the 13th had finished there was silence for a moment. Then the grandfather clock at the end of the room struck 11. To Sister Barbara Mitchell and others there it was almost an Amen. Can man solve his problems of prejudice, poverty, violence and war or is it the 11th hour.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

By TERRY NOWELL
In Sikeston Little League play last night, the National division saw Lewis blank A & B Oil 11-0 and Legion down Lions 7-5 at Puckett field.

Lewis' scoring started in the first inning as it stacked up six runs against A & B.
Winning squad then came back in the second to add another five runs to bring their total to 11.

Both teams went scoreless in the remaining two innings as the 10 run rule took effect at the end of four.

Lewis had a total of five hits in the contest while A & B was able to obtain only one.

Schatzley and Lawrence picked up two hits and two runs apiece in contribution to Lewis' cause.

Bridger got A & B's sole hit as he pounded out a single in the second inning of play.

Only extra base hit of the battle came on a double by Lewis' Schatzley.

Luber became the winning pitcher of the game and White took the loss for A & B.

In the second game of the evening, Legion got the jump on Lions as it compiled three runs in the first inning of play.

Pitchers Compete For Friday Night Honors

Ever since Juan Marichal began pitching for the San Francisco Giants 10 years ago, the chances were that he would win any game he pitched. But never have the percentages been so great in his favor as they are now.

After pitching the Giants to a 4-2 victory over the Montreal Expos Friday night, no pitcher in baseball history can top the right-hander when it comes to winning percentage.

Marichal's six-hitter raised his record this season to 7-2 and his career mark to 177-79, a .691 percentage. He had entered the contest tied with former New York Yankees ace Whitey Ford, who was 236-106 for .690.

Although a loss in his next start would drop him back again, the way the 31-year-old molder master wins games with monotonous regularity, he could quite possibly keep his all-time high percentage by the time he finally leaves the game.

While the percentages were not the same, Marichal had plenty of competition for pitching honors in the National League Friday night.

Rick Wise turned in a three-hitter in pitching Philadelphia past San Diego 6-1. Alan Foster scattered seven hits as Los Angeles nudged the New York Mets 1-0. Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 2-1. Houston overcame St. Louis 4-2, and, in the only hitler's contest, the Chicago Cubs tumbled Cincinnati 14-8.

Marichal, who turned in a 6-2 record in 11 games with the Giants in 1960, as been a 20-game winner five times since and fashioned such seasons as 25-8, 21-8, 25-6 and 26-9 last season. It looks like another one of those years.

His victory over Montreal was his seventh complete game this season and his only trouble came in the sixth inning when he had a brief lapse of control and walked two. Ron Fairly's hit led the bases and two runs scored on a ground out and a sacrifice fly.

Wise, 6-5, lost his bid for a shut out and the third in a row by Philadelphia pitchers when Clarence Gasto tripled in the third inning and scored San Diego's run on a ground out. But the Philly right-hander was in control the rest of the time.

Rich Allen, Mike Ryan and Johnny Callison backed him with homers for four runs.

Foster, winning his first game after four defeats, outdueled Jerry Koosman of the Mets with the help of a second inning unearned run and a throw by outfielder Manny Mota that cut down a runner at the plate in the fifth.

The Dodgers, shut out the last two nights, got their run when Mota singled and took second as outfielder Art Shamsky bobbled the ball. Jim Lefebvre singled him home with one of the six hits off Koosman, 3-4.

Milt Pappas had Pittsburgh blanked on six hits until the ninth when Willie Stargell tied the game 1-1 with a homer, and the Pirates won it in the 10th on Bill Mazeroski's hit, a sacrifice and a pinch-hit single by Manny Sanguillen.

Houston also rallied in the ninth. Trailing Ray Washburn and the Cardinals 2-1, Doug Rader started the inning with a tying homer and Denis Menke later singled in the two decisive runs.

The Cubs exploded for six runs in the 10th, the first on Paul Popovich's single and four more on

Ron Santo's two-run single and two wild pitches.

SEMO State, Grid, Cage Schedules Announced

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Southeast Missouri State College will resume its rivalry with two non-conference teams during the 1969 football season.

The 10-game schedule announced by head coach Tom Thrower also includes matches with three non-conference teams which the Indians faced last fall and five conference games.

New foes on the upcoming gridiron schedule are Jacksonville, Ala., State University and Illinois State University of Normal.

Head basketball coach Charles Parsley has also announced a tentative schedule for the 1969-70 season.

It includes 11 home games and 10 away games and lists two new opponents — Peru, Neb., State College and North Park College of Chicago.

The schedule also lists an away game with Kentucky Wesleyan, the nation's small college champion, and home and away games with traditional rival Arkansas State and the five other MIAA colleges.

Southeast Missouri, champion of the MIAA in football for the last two years, faces a rebuilding job this fall. Thrower, who had a 6-4 record in his initial year as a college head coach, says he will have to replace seven offensive starters and five defensive starters. Of these, seven were All-Conference players.

The Indians' passing attack should be good, according to Thrower, but he says the running game looks doubtful. The coach adds that the defense should be improved, though it will still be very young with only two seniors slated for first string duty.

Southeast Missouri last played Jacksonville in 1965, absorbing a 23-13 defeat. The Indians have not met Illinois State since 1944. They were beaten 13-12 in that year.

Parsley also has a big task ahead if he is a reverse the losing tide which has engulfed the Indians for the last two cage seasons. They finished 7-15 last season, the worst they have ever done, in 12 years under Parsley.

Four players, including the team's leading rebounders, were lost through graduation.

"What we need in a real bad way is two or three big junior college boys who can step right in and play for us," the Southeast Missouri mentor has been quoted as saying. His tallest starter last season was 6-5. Several junior college players are on the string, Parsley says, but he adds he won't feel at rest until they are actually enrolled. He was burned last fall when several transfer students who had said they were coming to Southeast Missouri changed their minds at the last moment.

However, one who did show up — Fred Anderson — turned out to be a dandy. He led the MIAA in scoring all season, finished the year with a 23.2 average, and was an All-Conference selection.

Anderson and Jim Long, a transfer who became eligible at mid-semester, probably give the Indians the best backcourt combination in the conference.

Lora Lyons Cunningham

Lora Jeanice Lyons Wed In Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — The Reception Centre was the setting for the wedding of Miss Lora Jeanice Lyons and Brent Rigby Cunningham on May 14, 1969. A reception immediately followed the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an original peau de soie satin brocade gown featuring long sleeves edged with ruffles, stand-up ruffled neckline, and empire waist with self bow. The walking train and skirt of the gown featured a ruffled hemline. The bride's chapel length veil of nylon illusion was attached to a bow fashioned from the same satin as the dress. The bride carried a bouquet of camellias, orchids, and pink roses, cascading on a lavender velvet streamer.

Attending the bride as Maid of Honor was Miss Karen Sue Lyons, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Cunningham and Mrs. Betty Eckenrode, sisters of the groom, Miss Linda Haynie, Miss Frederika Myer, and Mrs. Gail Snow, friends of the bride. The attendants were identically attired in lavender floor length dresses of peau de soie satin, featuring ruffled necklines and empire waists, and wore bow headdresses with veils of lavender and pink illusion. Each attendant carried a single long-stemmed pink rose with pin satin streamer ribbons.

The bride's mother was attired in a pink lace dress with pink accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink satin dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Glenda Middleton, sister of the bride, presided over the guest book on a pink brocade dress featuring jeweled neckline and matching coat.

Best man was Ronald Roundy, and ushers were Errol Jenson, Gill Lund, Roger Neslen, and John Hancock, with Keith Rodenbeck as head usher. Perry and Ronald Lyons, brothers of the bride, and James Cunningham, brother of the groom served as junior ushers.

The newlyweds greeted guests immediately following the ceremony. The pink and lavender theme of the wedding was carried out in the serving room, where pink lanterns and lavender bows decorated the white clothed tables. Guests were served pink punch and white wedding cake by Misses Linda Nielson, Andrea Cottle, Sharon and Karryn Rolls, and Darlene

Marlowe, then admired the many gifts displayed on the mirrored tables of the gift room by Misses Jane, Carolyn, and Berta Jones, cousins of the bride.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nevada. The new Mrs. Cunningham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lyons, former residents of New Madrid and Sikeston, Missouri. She is the sister of Mrs. Larry W. Boyer of Sikeston, Missouri. The bride is a graduate of New Madrid High School.

Mr. Cunningham is a 1965 graduate of East High School of Salt Lake City, Utah and served in the mission field of Canada for two years as a missionary of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He is presently attending the University of Utah. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham are employed by the Cream O'Weber Dairy of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Out of town guests were the Bill Holmans of Pleasant Grove, Utah, the James Hawthornes of Bountiful Utah, and Mrs. Glenda Middleton of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The newlyweds are residing at 2350 South 2nd East, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Cox-Dunaway

The marriage of Miss Nora Cathleen Cox and Gary Douglas Dunaway was solemnized Sunday, June 1, at 3 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Tupelo, Miss. The Reverend Roy McAlilly of Fulton performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kindle Davis of Dexter, Missouri and the late John C. Cox of Tupelo. Mr. Dunaway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Dunaway of Biloxi.

Medlock-Tatum

Miss Glenna Medlock, 11301 Cypress Village Drive, St. Ann, and Mr. Philip Tatum of Warrenton were united in marriage on Saturday, May 31 at the First General Baptist Church here. The Rev. W. R. Elledge performed the double ring ceremony at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Medlock, 126 Alice Street, Dexter, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tatum of Harrison, Ark.

Putnam-Richmond Vows Exchanged

DEXTER - Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church here on Saturday evening May 24 as Miss Betty June Putnam exchanged marriage vows with H. M. Richmond.

Miss Putnam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Putnam, Dexter, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hester Richmond, Bloomfield, and the late E. W. Richmond.

The church pastor, the Rev. M. E. Dark officiated at the eight o'clock, single ring ceremony.

Mrs. Bob Coffey, organist, accompanied the choir in "O Perfect Love" and the soloist, Miss Joan Thompson as she sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt for the nuptial blessing.

Mrs. Delores Parmenter of Dexter was matron of honor.

Ricky Richmond, son of the groom, was best man.

Attending to the seating of the guests were Carl Richmond of Advance and Dr. C. L. Richmond, Bloomfield.

Presiding at the guest book was Miss Norma Lacy.

Following a wedding trip to Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond are making their home in Bloomfield.

Mrs. Richmond was formerly employed at the Citizens Bank here, is presently a social worker at the Department of Welfare, Bloomfield and is attending Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau part time where she will be a Senior next fall. Mr. Richmond is a bookkeeper for Taylor and Christian Auto Sales here and attended the University of Missouri, Rolla, for one year.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Carl Richmond, Advance; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mills, Malden; Mrs. Virgie Richmond, Mrs. C. L. Richmond and sons, Miss Donna Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Parmenter, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newcomer, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams, Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gisi, Mascoutah, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Emerson, St. Ann, Mo., Mrs. Hoy Aarant and Gwinnie, of De Soto, Mo.

Miss Cato Wed To PFC Huffman

ADVANCE - Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Cato of Zalma have announced the marriage of their daughter, Jacquelyn to PFC Eddie Dean Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Huffman, also of Zalma.

They were married Saturday evening, June 7 at 8:00 p.m. at the Abernathy Methodist Church.

Due to the short notice of military leave, Mr. and Mrs. Cato are unable to send written invitations. Friends and relatives will be contacted in person or by telephone.

A reception was held at the home of the brides parents.

Hughes-Pickard Wedding Plans

If you'll get engaged
this Spring ...

Here is a little help

DIAMOND PRICE FACTS:

Don't spend more than you can afford. A good rule to follow: Spend about a month of your salary on the engagement ring. But make sure you get the most for your money. In the ring style that pleases her most.

DIAMOND BUYING FACTS:

About half of all engagement rings are chosen by boy and girl together. But in many cases the young man buys the diamond alone. Or he talks it over with us first and then brings his girl in for final selection. It's up to you!

DIAMOND STYLING FACTS:

Modern girls are individualists. Some want an absolutely perfect diamond even if it is smaller. Others want the largest stone possible even if it has slight flaws. Some want ultra-modern, others traditional styling. These are the things to talk over with us.

COME IN! AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

We have helped so many young couples. We can help you to come to the right decision. Let your wishes and our experience be the guide. For a lifetime of happiness with your diamond.

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — On a recent Halloween here a farmer, hoping to scare off pump-kin thieves, put up a sign in his yard reading "Beware. There is one poison pumpkin in this patch."

He returned to his field to find another sign: "Now there are two."

209 Apply Here For Jobs in May

In May, 177 persons under 22 applied for work with the employment office, but only 25 have received jobs, Mrs. Gladys Stewart, employment counselor for the Missouri Employment Security Division, said Monday.

In the over 40 age group, 32 persons applied and 10 received jobs while 39 applied in the over 45 age group and 11 were placed in jobs, Mrs. Stewart said.

Looking Back Mule Dealer Clayton Sells 100 to Trailback Plantation

50 years ago
June 14, 1919
Duncan Brite returned from Liberty on Saturday, where he has been a freshman in William Jewell College this last year. He says he, with two others in a class of 60 freshmen, was given S by special vote of the faculty. This is a grade given only by vote of the college faculty for excellence of work done.

Harry Dudley, late of the Marines, but now instructor in a military school at Ft. Defiance, Va., is with us for the summer. Dudley is one of the boys we are proud to have with us. Only a few years ago, he came to Sikeston, a stranger, and by his gentlemanly manners and strict attention to business made scores of friends who will always wish him well.

Frank Dye, Clarence Couch and Russell Edwards of the 89th Division have been discharged and are now at home. Edwards reports that Dr. W.T. Avery returned on the same ship with them and was discharged at Camp Funston and from there went to his home in Farmington.

Mrs. W.H. Copeland and Mrs. D.R. Hunter of New Madrid, motored to this city Friday with the eighth grade graduating class, which has six members, to have the picture of the class taken.

Miss Juanita Briggs was awarded a partial scholarship in the Federal School Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., amounting to $50. Miss Briggs completed a special scholastic analysis test with a grade of 92.

While surrounding towns were being drenched in a heavy rain storm, and disturbed by high winds Wednesday morning and again late that afternoon, this city escaped with a light rainfall between midnight Wednesday and Thursday morning. Threatening clouds sent dozens of families scurrying for storm cellars in this city and workers in the fields were seen to drop their work and lie flat in the furrows, but the storm blew over and caused only a little inconvenience by hurling high quantities of sand before it.

Bill Stevens or "Steve," for several months relief operator at the local Western Union office, has been promoted to manager of the Holten, Kas. office, according to L.C. Lear, manager of the Sikeston branch office. Delisle Heister has been a student at the local office for the past month, and within another four weeks will be ready for his examination and will then stand by for location in some office. A.L. Buckner is the local operator taking the place of Stevens.

Elie Taylor, otherwise known as "Slim," a farm hand on the Grover Baker farm, suffered a painful mishap Wednesday afternoon, when a .41 Colts Special went off, tearing through one of the bones in his left hand.

If You Were the Judge Judge Rules Wife Is Not Husband's Keeper

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.
Rocky had a temper he couldn't keep and no one wanted. The community bully, he was so argumentative he wouldn't even eat food that agreed with him. Consequently, when Timid Tim made the mistake of disagreeing with him, Rocky saw red and began to pummel him. As he began the on-slaught, however, Rocky's wife drove up and Rocky jumped into her car and drove off with her.

Licking his wounds, Tim not only sued Rocky for his injuries, but he sued Rocky's wife as well.

"He must have taken more of a beating than I thought," answered Rocky's wife in court. "He's out of his head. He can't sue me. I never touched him. I didn't even blow my horn at him."

"Maybe not," retorted Tim. "But she knew her husband had a violent and vicious temper. By keeping him around, it was like harboring and sheltering a dangerous animal. And when a person harbors and shelters a dangerous animal, he's responsible for the consequences."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold Rocky's wife responsible for his anti-social conduct? This is how the judge ruled: NO! He held that a wife is not her husband's keeper.

Six Dead in Copter Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Five Navy men and a civilian are dead or missing in the crash of a Navy helicopter on a mercy flight from the attack carrier Constellation to San Diego.

Two bodies were recovered before an air-sea search ended at sunset Friday. The other victims were listed as missing at sea.

The Navy said the big, turbopowered helicopter crashed and sank at 1 a.m. Friday seven miles off the coast, after picking up a seriously injured sailor who had been blown off by the Constellation's flight deck by a jet blast.

Searchers found the bodies of the pilot, Lt. Richard A. Fitzsimmons, 26, of Marengo, Ill., and Petty Officer 3c, Larry R. Peterson, 27, of Chardon, Iowa.

Among the missing was the senior medical officer of the carrier, Capt. Andrew W. Stevenson, 46, of Coronado, Calif., who had been promoted to captain five hours before the flight.

Others missing were the injured sailor, Senior Chief Aviation Machinist's Mate James F. Dean, 47, San Diego; Lt. Leonard E. Goza Jr., 29, the co-pilot, of Anson, Tex., and Wayne Zarling, 36, Chula Vista, Calif., a civilian technical representative to the Navy.

NEW MADRID - All county grade school age children are invited to take part in the New Madrid County Library's annual summer reading program, which begins Monday in the library's nine branches at Portageville, Marston, New Madrid, Kewanee, Matthews, Morehouse, Canolou, Parma and Risco.

In addition to reading the program will include a story hour and films at most of the branches.

In Kewanee, the program will be held in the Kewanee Methodist Church basement, with Mrs. Hardin in charge. Mrs. Karen Johnston and Miss Lala Lane of the county staff will travel throughout the county to conduct the story hours and show films.

Children who read 10 or more books during the month-long program will be presented a reading certificate. Concluding the program will be a picnic on July 16 in the New Madrid City Park. All children who have participated in the program are invited to attend.

Here — There Everywhere In Sports With E. J. Mays

Hide that lawnmower; burn the garden hoses and hose and sneak away from the little woman this week to the creek, or lake bank boys for, from all reports reaching this desk the fish - crappie, bluegills, bass and catfish are biting good.

Some of the better reports are coming from Kentucky Lake, around the Murray area in the Land Between the Lakes, around the Golden Pond sector; at Reelfoot's Samburg and Walnut Log areas and at Enid Reservoir, near Water Valley, Miss, and Sardis Lake, just off the I-55 Expressway --8 miles east -- near Sardis, Miss.

One of the best fish-getters reported this week is the new Devil Jig lure, being made in Charleston mailcarrier Harry Herwig.

This lure, fished from cane pole, or rod, with only two or three feet of line and dragged around stumps, logs and bushes has been filling stringers in the Bootheel farm ponds and at Kentucky Lake. John Snow of Charleston reported 23 caught, with several released, in a few hours. Shallows were waded to gain some of the catches so the bass apparently aren't afraid of the wader, as evidenced by the three pounds being caught.

Other fishermen report fine reports from fishing shallow water near banks and around spots where small creeks empty into larger creeks or rivers. Here Jitterbugs, Lucky 13's and Bomber's (400 series) are making kills, all FISHED SLOWLY.

Now that waters are becoming clear fishermen are beginning to use darker lures, perch, black and orange, to record kills, especially going deep where the blue, purple and dark green worms are also getting results.

DAVIS, SOME COACH

We bumped into an old pal of sports coverage days -- in Mississippi -- recently via phone in Sikeston in the personage of Kimble "Bud" Davis. We found he is regarded in the Bootheel as a leading promoter of new industries and automobile sales but, when we knew him, he was "one of the best basketball coaches -- and referee baiters -- we ever knew." The affable disposition could readily change to one of ire and irate declaration, come what he thought was a bad call. In one tourney, with the state junior college championship at stake and the two officials letting the two teams play like they were using "pro rules," one of the opposing players knocked an Itawamba Junior College player of Bud's squad into Bud's lap, without a whistle blowing. Bud's protest brought only a technical foul and opposition possession, converted into a three point play and Bud's crying wet more than one towel over the decision.

Davis is known as "one of the best cage coaches in the country, producing championship contenders at Belmont High School and Itawamba Junior College champs and not getting a shot at a national JC title because of then prevailing restrictions re integrated participation. One of his pals, told him was a leading automobile dealer in Dexter and Sikeston said, cynically: "He should be. He saw that at least half a dozen outstanding basketball players rode in new cars and then showed up as transfers to Belmont High and Itawamba Junior College."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the Finance chairman, has said he will open hearings on the legislation immediately after the House passes it.

These probably will last two or three days. In addition to Kennedy, and other administration witnesses, Long is committed to hear business spokesmen wishing to protest repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit.

New Madrid Summer Reading Program Set

NEW MADRID - All county grade school age children are invited to take part in the New Madrid County Library's annual summer reading program, which begins Monday in the library's nine branches at Portageville, Marston, New Madrid, Kewanee, Matthews, Morehouse, Canolou, Parma and Risco.

In addition to reading the program will include a story hour and films at most of the branches.

In Kewanee, the program will be held in the Kewanee Methodist Church basement, with Mrs. Hardin in charge. Mrs. Karen Johnston and Miss Lala Lane of the county staff will travel throughout the county to conduct the story hours and show films.

Children who read 10 or more books during the month-long program will be presented a reading certificate. Concluding the program will be a picnic on July 16 in the New Madrid City Park. All children who have participated in the program are invited to attend.

Sixth Slaying Victim Aspired To Aid Youth in Social Work

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Alice Elizabeth Kalom's ambition was "to combat social problems" and she said "an important place to begin this work is with young people and in a location where they are conveniently gathered—the school."

That's why the 21-year-old sixth girl victim of murder in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in less than two years had applied to the University of Michigan to begin graduate study next January toward a master's degree in social work.

She drew a character self-portrait of herself in applying for graduate study, saying she wanted "to explore as many avenues as possible" to better prepare herself for teaching.

Pound shot, slashed and raped on an abandoned farm last Monday, she was buried today at Kalamazoo, after funeral services in the First Congregationalist Church in nearby Portage.

Her father, Joseph, is a pharmacist, and her mother, Dorothy, a school librarian in Kalamazoo.

Prosecutor William F. Delhey said there had been "nothing of significance" uncovered Friday that might lead to a solution of her slaying or that of the five other unsolved murders.

Miss Kalom earned a bachelor's degree in art in May and expected to receive a teaching certificate in August, and would have been accepted for graduate work.

Dr. Thomas J. Larkin, professor of art, wrote that he understood "a strong sense of social responsibility which she feels will not be satisfied in her present art field" led to her switch.

In portraying herself, she wrote, in applying for graduate study, that "my first contact with a 'minority group member' was in my own family."

"My father was a Russian Jew who came to live in this country when he was 13 years old."

"My other contacts with members of other minority groups were through my father's pharmacy business. During the summer Mexican and Puerto Ricans came to work in a local cannery factory. They traded at my father's store where I helped out from the age of 8 to 9."

"Until I came to the University of Michigan I had no previous contact with Negroes."

"It was my Negro roommate who guided my impressions of Negroes as a group."

"Through my close association with my roommate, I had an opportunity to meet and make friends with a large number of Negroes—men and women."

"Most of the Negroes I met had similar expectations and goals as I did..."

Dr. H.M. Wolowitz, associate professor of clinical psychology and her one-time professor at Michigan, supported her application for graduate school social work.

"I would like to support her application with enthusiasm," he wrote, "both on the grounds of her intellectual and emotional strengths. She...has a strong need to make a contribution in being of professional service to others who are in need of help."

Two Evans Officers Suspected of Negligence

SUBIC BAY, Philippines staff, asked for a recess until (AP) — Two junior lieutenants in the charge of the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans the morning she was cut in two by the Australian carrier Melbourne were told today they are suspected of negligence.

Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C. Ramsey, 24, Long Beach, Calif., and Lt. (j.g.) James R. Hopson, 28, Kansas City, Kan., requested and received legal counsel though they were advised by the joint U.S.-Australian board investigating the collision that they had not been charged.

Lt. Ramsey was in charge and Lt. Hopson was steering until a few moments before the collision last week in which 74 American sailors perished.

Ramsey's attorney, Lt. Frederick F. Tilton of the Navy's Judge Advocate General's

and to terminate his testimony at anytime.

In testimony by the Melbourne skipper earlier in the day, Stevenson said the Evans would have avoided a collision by taking "just one" of several measures that he had provided.

That was the first time that responsibility for the collision was charged publicly against the Evans.

Stevenson said that written instructions had been issued in a handbook before the maneuvers began, that there had been discussions with ship commanders involving the one being conducted at the time of the collision and last minute emergency measures just before the disaster.

Despite these precautions, he said, "the unbelievable happened."

First Units to Leave Vietnam Identified

SAIGON AP — The U.S. 9th Marine Regiment, the first American combat unit to enter the Vietnam war, and the 1st and 2nd Brigades of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division were named today as the first of 25,000 American troops being withdrawn.

A 25,000 man withdrawal to be completed by the end of August was announced Friday night but the specific identity of the units was not disclosed until the first major U.S. withdrawal sharp fighting broke out in scattered sections of the country. The 2nd Brigade of the 9th Division lost four men killed and 22 wounded when it came under heavy attack while making a river assault 45 miles southeast of Saigon.

The biggest setback for U.S. troops came just east of the rugged A Shau Valley early today when 40 to 50 North Vietnamese sappers hurling dynamite bombs and grenades smashed their way to the perimeter of an American brigade headquarters.

Eleven paratroopers were killed in the attack on the 10th Airborne Division firebase. Another 47 were wounded. U.S. headquarters said 31 North Vietnamese soldiers died in the attack.

First to Return Accept News With Disbelief

DONG TAM, South Vietnam (AP) — "I don't believe it. I just don't believe it."

That's what the jubilant "shorttimers" in the U.S. 9th Infantry Division were saying today after they heard that two of the unit's three brigades would be leaving Vietnam soon. For some the disbelief persisted even after their division commander issued a statement that the 9th, "less one brigade, will soon be returning home again from war."

But some of their buddies who still have several months of their one-year tour to go were less enthusiastic.

The U.S. Command has announced that the 1st and 2nd brigades will be the units shipped back stateside.

Maj. Gen. Harris W. Hollis, commander of the 9th Infantry, indicated there would be some reorganization to assure that the men who have served the most time in Vietnam would be among those going home first.

"As a general rule," Hollis said, "those who have completed the major portion of their normal tours may expect to be redeployed. Those who still have a significant period to serve before their 12-month tour will be completed can expect to remain in Vietnam under current guidelines."

Division officers were uncertain where the cut-off point would be set. They speculated that those who have served eight months in Vietnam could expect to leave and those with four or more months to go could expect to stay with the remaining brigade or be transferred to other units.

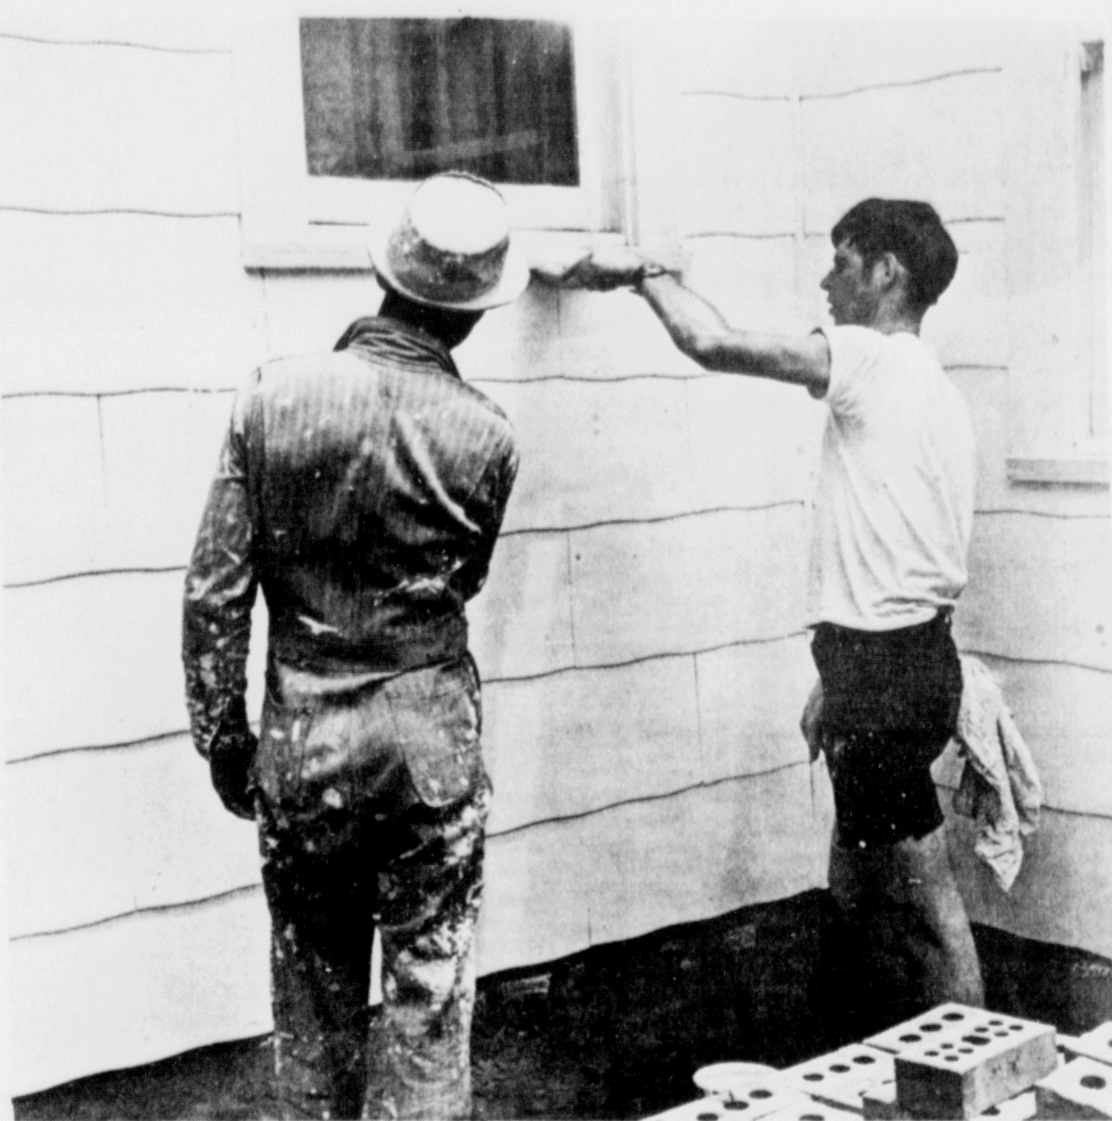

The troops, who always claim to know everything that happens at headquarters, had been betting the 2nd and 3rd brigades would be shipped out. One soldier even claimed to have seen a document saying everyone due to leave by September would go home with the two units.

For the men who thought they might be among the 9,000 in the division going home, Hollis's statement brought elation.

"When the announcement came," said Staff Sgt. Joseph Turner, 20, of Chattanooga, Tenn., "morale went up—just like that."

Many soldiers felt that the expectation of leaving Vietnam would have not only a buoying effect on morale but also would limit the effectiveness of the troops in the field.

"If you think you are going home, you're not about to go out there and get your behind shot off," said one.

Eleven Boys to Take Second Year in New Trade Course

Eleven boys successfully helped initiate a Buildings Trade Course in the vocational department at the Senior High School during the past school year, Jim Cornett, director of the vocational department, said Thursday.

The course, taught by Cline Ables, runs on a two-year basis, and is designed essentially to prepare students for a life's vocation. Boys enroll in the course for 2½ hours, five days a week.

Students are not required to take the second year of the course, but out of 14 boys who enrolled in the course during the past year, completed the first year and will finish the course next year.

An advantage of the course is that the first year's work teaches the students enough about the building trade to work during the summer.

Each boy who took the course during the past term is working in Sikeston this situation rather than a working situation, he said.

The first four weeks of the course is classroom work only. After that, practical application is tied in with classroom work. Three textbooks are used in the course, and tests are given periodically.

Courses similar to the Buildings Trade Course which are offered in other communities are structured so participants get practical experience with little classroom activities included. Classroom experience helps the students better learn the material and learn it more thoroughly, Cornett said.

Boys who completed the first year of the course are Dale Stovall, Joe Carlock, Josh Howard, Tommy Winfield, Clint Holman, Lee Payne, Johnny Carter, Larry Lawrence, Allen Yates, Gary Byrd, and Dale Lewis.

"The progress and interest of the students is gratifying," Ables said.

Nixon Administration Claims New Wiretapping Powers

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON AP — The Nixon administration has claimed broad new powers to use wiretapping against organizations and persons it suspects of trying to "foment violent disorders" across the nation.

Moreover, the Justice Department contended Friday, the government does not have to secure court approval before installing electronic surveillance devices in such domestic cases.

In a memorandum filed in U.S. District Court in Chicago, the department admitted bugging at least five of eight anti-war demonstrators charged with conspiracy in connection with disorders during the 1969 Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

It said the wiretaps were designed to gather "foreign intelligence information" and to collect information "deemed necessary to protect the nation from attempts of domestic organizations to use unlawful means to attack and subvert the existing structure of the government."

Both types of surveillance, the government said, were perfectly legal and were carried out under "the inherent power of the President" to engage in any intelligence gathering operations he "believes are necessary to protect the security of the nation."

Such presidential authority, relegated to the attorney general, has long been recognized in cases of wiretapping for foreign intelligence purposes.

"There can be no doubt," the government said, "that there are in this country organizations which intend to use force and other illegal means to attack and subvert the existing form of our government."

"Moreover, in recent years, there have been an increasing number of instances in which federal troops have been called upon by the states in the suppression of riots."

"Faced with such a state of affairs," the department

declared, "any president who takes seriously his oath... will no doubt determine it is not 'unreasonable' to utilize electronic surveillance to gather intelligence information concerning those organizations which are committed to the use of illegal methods to bring about changes in our form of government and which may be seeking to foment violent disorders."

Noting that the Fourth Amendment prohibits only "unreasonable searches and seizures," the government claimed wiretaps in domestic security cases could not be considered unreasonable.

In an affidavit accompanying the memorandum, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell listed the Chicago defendants who were overheard by government agents through wiretaps.

They included Ronnie C. Davis and Jerry C. Rubin, leaders of the Youth International Party or "Yippies"; David T. Dellinger, head of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Bobby G. Seale, cofounder of the Black Panthers and Thomas E. Hayden an organizer and former secretary of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Other demonstrators charged in connection with the Chicago violence were Abbie H. Hoffman, another Yippie leader, and two college professors - Lee Weiner of Chicago and John R.

Elliott Boy Dies In Car Crash

MOREHOUSE — Tommy I. B. (Mary Elizabeth) McNew Edward Elliott, 20, three-year veteran of U.S. Navy, was fatally injured in an accident today at 3 a.m. on highway 114 in Morehouse, when he lost control of his 1964 Chevrolet on a curve in the road. He was returning to the home of his parents.

The car left the road and struck a utility pole a short distance away, when the rear of the vehicle slid into the pole, knocking Elliott unconscious. The gas tank on the car exploded a few minutes later and the driver was trapped in the car when all the doors were locked from the inside, according to eyewitnesses who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident.

Seaman 3rd class Elliott, who returned from the Navy Tuesday, after being stationed off the coast of Vietnam, was to be discharged in a few weeks, after having served three years. He enlisted in 1966, shortly after graduating from Morehouse high school, at the age of 17.

He took his basic training at Great Lakes, Ill. He received three decorations, the National Service Defense ribbon, the Vietnamese Campaign ribbon, and the Good Conduct ribbon.

Young Elliott purchased the car on Friday, and would have received his discharge this month, or two weeks before the completion of his enlistment.

Tommy was born in Sikeston, June 25, 1948, son of the late Roosevelt Elliott and Mrs. Elliott.

Surviving are his mother, and his stepfather, Hubert Hill, Morehouse; two sisters, Mrs. Edward (Allen) Eakers and Mrs.

apply his brakes when an unknown vehicle stopped in front of him.

Millster received cuts and scratches and was taken to Poplar Bluff hospital.

In an accident at 10:15 p.m. Friday, three miles north of Cape Girardeau on I-55, Marvin Warren, 37, Valley Park, driver of a 1959 International tractor trailer, received possible internal injuries and was taken to Southeast Missouri hospital, Cape Girardeau.

The state patrol aid he apparently went to sleep, lost control, went off of the highway and overturned. He was driving a truck belonging to Harts Bread. Damage was estimated at $3000.

Grant For Day Care Centers

Washington, D. C. — The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved $40,000 to the Delta Area Economic Opportunity Corporation in Portageville, Missouri, for six day care centers, Senators Thomas F. Eagleton and Stuart Symington announced this week.

These centers will provide day care services for 180 children of low income families throughout Dunklin, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Scott, and Stoddard Counties. The program is scheduled to be in operation for six months beginning August, 1969.

NATO Policy Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — limitation before starting the talks with the Soviets, for Ambassador Harlan Cleveland, U.S. envoy to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization during the Johnson administration, is said, is Nixon's proposal for pooling know-how among North Atlantic Treaty Organization members on such problems as city congestion and air pollution.

"I think it is a very important dimension," he said, "I think the real strength of the West lies not only in the maintenance of our (military) deterrent... it depends on the success of western societies in meeting their own problems..."

"In most industrial societies, including our own, really important questions are being asked whether all of our wealth and affluence is going to produce grotesque societies, which people won't regard as worth defending, or whether people are going to have vibrant, vital societies which people are determined to defend."

Cleveland, named to the NATO position in 1965 after serving as an assistant secretary of state during the Kennedy administration, stayed on the job until this month at the new administration's request pending arrival of his Republican successor, Robert Ellsworth.

His next post will be at Honolulu where he has been named to head the East-West Center at the University of Hawaii.

Girl Scouts To Cerebral Camp

Hold Sun Fun Opens Monday

Day Camp Soon

PORTAGEVILLE - Some 50 Girls Scouts have registered for Sun Fun Girl Scout Day Camp, which opens at 9 a.m. Monday at the city park here. The camp will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. through Friday.

Mrs. Bill Moore, director, said the camp will include two units of Brownie Girl Scouts, a Cadette unit and a Program Aide Training unit for Senior Scouts.

Camp activities for the Brownies include cook-outs, hiking, games, singing and Indian handicrafts. Unit leaders are Mrs. Marlene Bryant and Mrs. Gus LeSieur, both of Portageville and Mrs. Mary Lois Hendley and Mrs. Marie Hunter, both of New Madrid.

A proficiency badge in cycling and Indian Lore will be the goals of Junior Scouts, directed by Mrs. Robert Ruff, New Madrid, Mrs. Jewell Franklin, Lilbourn, and Mrs. June Huck and Mrs. Norma Smith, both of Portageville.

Mrs. Freida Lawson and Mrs. Annette Lale, both of Portageville, will direct Cadette girls scouts in the 6th, 7th or 8th grade, in obtaining a swimming badge.

Senior Scouts, Patricia Gamblin, Maria Bryant, Carolyn Dixon and Cindy Gee, are in Program Aide Training. They will assist adult leaders in each unit.

Parents night to visit the camp and attend a campfire program will be 7:30 p.m. Friday.

THE WRINKLES ARE COMING

REDDING, CALIF. - Smoking apparently encourages crow's feet and other unsightly wrinkles.

Dr. Harry W. Daniell, an internist, has made a study confirming earlier observations that more women smokers have slack, thin, wrinkled skin than do non-smoking women.

Dr. Daniell, who goes so far as to refer to such skin as "cigarette skin", remarks that some women pay more attention to a diagnosis of impending crow's feet than that to "heart-to-heart talks and threats of catastrophic disease, delivered with grave countenance."

Revival To Begin On Monday

The First Assembly of God, 106 South Kingshighway announces their summer revival crusade with evangelist Charles M. E. Duncombe, June 15-22.

Service schedule is as follows: Monday through Friday 7:30 P.M. (No Saturday service) and Sunday School 9:30 A.M. There will be a special visual demonstration presented by our evangelist in a united assembly in the auditorium from 9:30-10:00 a.m., followed by a lesson in the class rooms from 10:00-10:30, preaching service 10:30 A.M. and 7:00 P.M.

The evangelist is a noted Bible scholar, youth worker, musician, singer, and preacher who was born and raised in England; was Christened and Confirmed by the Bishop of London in St. Peter's church (Episcopalian). He was converted and filled with the Holy Spirit under the ministry of George Jefferies, ordained in The Assemblies of God of Great Britain in 1930.

Following attendance at Stratford Bible College in London; he pastored seven churches, and later, while evangelizing, founded several churches and one orphanage; serves as civil defence chaplain during the bombings of London during World War Two. Both his and his wife's parents homes were destroyed in these bombings. He was a well known soccer and cricket player and traveled throughout Europe before entering the ministry.

Mr. Duncombe came to America in 1953 and traveled throughout the United States as an evangelist for about six years before becoming cofounder in the Mid-West Bible Institute in Webb City, Missouri where he taught Bible for five years. On leaving that college, he founded the Trinity Bible College in Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1964.

When he is not confined to the school, he is engaged in evangelistic crusades. His last meeting before coming to Sikeston was in Dallas, Texas.

The public is invited and urged to attend this Crusade. T. A. McDonough is pastor.

The POWER of FAITH

WOODI ISHMAEL

SPIRITUAL SUMMIT CONFERENCE NO. 2

Sister Barbara Mitchell, Order of the Sacred Heart, was one of three representing the Roman Catholic faith at the Spiritual Summit Conference in Calcutta, India. To Sister Barbara the five-day meeting of the 30 distinguished spiritual leaders, representing two and a half billion adherents to 11 world religions was an inspiring experience.

She said, "The most important thing about it was that it happened and it could be done. It proved we are all human beings first... how easy it was to find the common denominator and easy to accept."

Sister Barbara, conscious of the relevance of religion to the modern world because of her work with young people at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart, Purchase, N. Y., was interested in observing the young people at the conference. They made their presence felt in a quiet reverent way. On the last evening of the conference the students proposed a closing prayer from thirteen of the participants.

In succession a representative from each religion stepped forward, lit a candle and said a prayer. When the 13th had finished there was silence for a moment. Then the grandfather clock at the end of the room struck 11. To Sister Barbara Mitchell and others there it was almost an omen. Can man solve his problems of prejudice, poverty, violence and war or is it the 11th hour.

LITTLE LEAGUERS

By TERRY NOWELL

In Sikeston Little League play last night, the National division saw Lewis blank A & B. Oil 11-0 and Legion down Lions 7-5 at Puckett field.

Lewis' scoring started in the first inning as it stacked up six runs against A & B.

Winning squad then came back in the second to add another five runs to bring their total to 11.

Both teams went scoreless in the remaining two innings as the 10 run rule took effect at the end of four.

Lewis had a total of five hits in the contest while A & B was able to obtain only one.

Schatzley and Lawrence picked up two hits and two runs apiece in contribution to Lewis' cause.

Bridger got A & B's sole hit as he pounded out a single in the second inning of play.

Only extra base hit of the battle came on a double by Lewis' Schatzley.

Luber became the winning pitcher of the game and White took the loss for A & B.

In the second game of the evening, Legion got the jump on Lions as it compiled three runs in the first inning of play.

EAST PRAIRIE — Robert Falkoff, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Falkoff, was East Prairie's star in the Ozark AAU Junior Olympics held at Poplar Bluff stadium last week. Falkoff, who will be a senior in EPHS next year, took first place in the senior boys' 220 yard dash with a time of 23.4 seconds; won second in the 100 yard dash; and third in the 440 yard dash.

The other two East Prairie boys placing were Mark Hurt, son of Mrs. Steve Hurt, second in the shot put for junior boys and Bernard Ivie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ivie, second in the 880-yard run and second in the mile run for senior boys.

Those in Charleston receiving awards were Kevin Chambers, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chambers, who was Charleston's top competitor in the events. Kevin won the gold medal for first place in the 75-yard dash with a time of 10 seconds flat, a mark which ties the national record in the "midget boys" division. He also won silver medals for second place in the 50-yard dash, and the shot put. Gary Coiffer, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Coiffer, took first place in the baseball throw with a record-breaking toss of 129 feet, 11 inches in the "bantam boys" class.

Tom Daughette, third place in mile run for senior boys, Denise Baugh, third in the 50-yard dash for senior girls; Mary Gordon, third in discus throw for senior girls; Hanes (no first name given) third in 440-yard dash for senior girls; Mays (no first name given) second in the standing broad jump for midget girls.

Pitchers Compete For Friday Night Honors

Ever since Juan Marichal began pitching for the San Francisco Giants 10 years ago, the chances were that he would win any game he pitched. But never have the percentages been so great in his favor as they are now.

After pitching the Giants to a 4-2 victory over the Montreal Expos Friday night, no pitcher in baseball history can top the right-hander when it comes to winning percentage.

Marichal's six-hitter

raised his record this season to 7-2 and his career mark to 177-79, a 691 percentage. He had entered the contest tied with former New York Yankees ace Whitey Ford, who was 236-106 for 690.

Although a loss in his next start would drop him back again, the way the 31-year-old mound master wins games with monotonous regularity, he could quite possibly keep his all-time high percentage by the time he finally leaves the game.

While the percentages were not the same, Marichal had plenty of competition for pitching honors in the National League Friday night.

Rick Wise turned in a three-hitter in pitching Philadelphia past San Diego 6-1. Alan Foster scattered seven hits as Los Angeles nudged the New York Mets 1-0, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 2-1, Houston overcame St. Louis 4-2, and, in the only hitter's contest, the Chicago Cubs tumbled Cincinnati 14-8.

Marichal, who turned in a 6-2 record in 11 games with the Giants in 1960, as been a 20-game winner five times since and fashioned such seasons as 25-8, 21-8, 25-6 and 26-9 last season. It looks like another one of those years.

His victory over Montreal was his seventh complete game this season and his only trouble came in the sixth inning when he had a brief lapse of control and walked two. Ron Fairly's hit led the bases and two runs scored on a ground out and a sacrifice fly.

Wise, 6-5, lost his bid for a shut out and the third in a row by Philadelphia pitchers when Clarence Gasto tripled in the third inning and scored San Diego's run on a ground out. But the Philly right-hander was in control the rest of the time.

Rich Allen, Mike Ryan and Johnny Callison backed him with homers for four runs.

Foster, winning his first game after four defeats, outdueled Jerry Koosman of the Mets with the help of a second inning unearned run and a throw by outfielder Manny Mota that cut down a runner at the plate in the fifth.

The Dodgers, shut out the last two nights, got their run when Mota singled and took second as outfielder Art Shamsky bobbled the ball. Jim Lefebvre singled him home with one of the six hits off Koosman, 3-4.

Milt Pappas had Pittsburgh blanked on six hits until the ninth when Willie Stargell tied the game 1-1 with a homer, and the Pirates won it in the 10th on Bill Mazeroski's hit, a sacrifice and a pinch-hit single by Manny Sanguillen.

Houston also rallied in the ninth. Trailing Ray Washburn and the Cardinals 2-1, Doug Rader started the inning with a tying homer and Denis Menke later singled in the two decisive runs.

The Cubs exploded for six runs in the 10th, the first on Paul Popovich's single and four more on

Ron Santo's two-run single and two wild pitches.

SEMO State, Grid, Cage Schedules Announced

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Southeast Missouri State College will resume its rivalry with two non-conference teams during the 1969 football season.

The 10-game schedule announced by head coach Tom Thrower also includes matches with three non-conference teams which the Indians faced last fall and five conference games.

New foes on the upcoming gridiron schedule are Jacksonville, Ala., State University and Illinois State University of Normal.

Head basketball coach Charles Parsley has also announced a tentative schedule for the 1969-70 season. It includes 11 home games and 10 away games and lists two new opponents — Peru, Neb., State College and North Park College of Chicago.

The schedule also lists an away game with Kentucky Wesleyan, the nation's small college champion, and home and away games with traditional rival Arkansas State and the five other MIAA colleges.

Southeast Missouri, champion of the MIAA in football for the last two years, faces a rebuilding job this fall. Thrower, who had a 6-4 record in his initial year as a college head coach, says he will have to replace seven offensive starters and five defensive starters. Of these, seven were All-Conference players.

The Indians' passing attack should be good, according to Thrower, but he says the running game looks doubtful. The coach adds that the defense should be improved, though it will still be very young with only two seniors slated for first string duty.

Southeast Missouri last played Jacksonville in 1965, absorbing a 23-13 defeat. The Indians have not met Illinois State since 1944. They were beaten 13-12 in that year.

Parsley also has a big task ahead if he is a reverse the losing tide which has engulfed the Indians for the last two cage seasons. They finished 7-15 last season, the worst they have ever done in 12 years under Parsley.

Four players, including the team's leading rebounders, were lost through graduation.

"What we need in a real bad way is two or three big junior college boys who can step right in and play for us," the Southeast Missouri mentor has been quoted as saying. His tallest starter last season was 6-5. Several junior college players are on the string, Parsley says, but he adds he won't feel at rest until they are actually enrolled. He was burned last fall when several transfer students who had said they were coming to Southeast Missouri changed their minds at the last moment.

However, one who did show up — Fred Anderson — turned out to be a dandy. He led the MIAA in scoring all season, finished the year with a 23.2 average, and was an All-Conference selection.

Anderson and Jim Long, a transfer who became eligible at mid-semester, probably give the Indians the best backcourt combination in the conference.

Hawks-Russian Game Set

June 21 In Memphis, Tenn.

Butch Beard and Wally Anderzunas, the club's two top draft choices, are certain to start for the Atlanta Hawks rookies, when they face the Russian National team in Memphis Sat. night, June 21.

Beard, a 6-3 185-pounder from Louisville, has been the most impressive performer to hit a Hawks rookie camp in years while Anderzunas, who was good enough to be drafted twice by NBA clubs (he was tabbed by Detroit a year ago but returned to school) is a 6-8 220-pound forward on unlimited potential.

Coach Richie Guerin of the Hawks, who will coach the team with his assistant coach, Gene Tormohlen, plans to keep his top men in Atlanta all next week after the Hawks current rookie camp closes here Sat. night.

"I've coached against the Russians before," Guerin said, "and I know just how tough they are. We want to get acclimated to the international rules and we'll practice against our varsity veterans to get ready."

Stated to start at center for the Hawks newcomers will be 6-10 250-pound Bill Pickens, who played last year in Italy with the Ramazzotti of Rome. He led the Italian league in scoring and rebounding and knows the International rules at a T.

Vanderbilt's Bob Bundy, a 6-9 220-pound center, is slated to be the other pivot man.

Beard and probably Billy Hann, of the University of Tennessee will be the starting guards although Don Griffin, a 6-4 1/2 190-pounder from Stanford, could go with Beard on the backline.

"We'll have a strong team since this is the best camp we've had in five years," Guerin said. "We're not coming to Memphis to lose especially since we have a lot of Hawks fans there. Memphis has been very close to all us and supported us tremendously when we played there for two years."

"We'll do our best to put on a good game," he added.

EAST PRAIRIE — In Babe Ruth play at East Prairie last night, the Giants suffered a 5-2 loss from the Pirates and Cubs downed the Expos 8-4 in the second game.

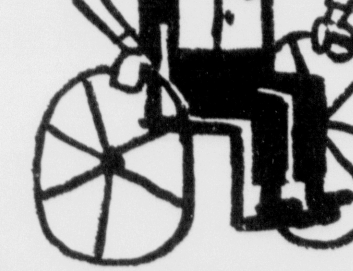

Randy Hale took the pitching win for the Pirates with a three-hitter and R. J. Watson took the win for the Expos with a two hitter.

Lora Lyons Cunningham

Lora Jeanice Lyons Wed In Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — The Reception Centre was the setting for the wedding of Miss Lora Jeanice Lyons and Brent Rigby Cunningham on May 14, 1969. A reception immediately followed the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an original peau de soie satin brocade gown featuring long sleeves edged with ruffles, stand-up ruffled neckline, and empire waist with self bow. The walking train and skirt of the gown featured a ruffled hemline. The bride's chapel length veil of nylon illusion was attached to a bow fashioned from the same satin as the dress. The bride carried a bouquet of camellias, orchids, and pink roses, cascading on a lavender velvet streamer.

Attending the bride as Maid of Honor was Miss Karen Sue Lyons, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Kay Cunningham and Mrs. Betty Eckenrode, sisters of the groom, Miss Linda Haynie, Miss Frederika Myer, and Mrs. Gail Snow, friends of the bride. The attendants were identically attired in lavender floor length dresses of peau de soie satin, featuring ruffled necklines and empire waists, and wore bow headdresses with veils of lavender and pink illusion. Each attendant carried a single long-stemmed pink rose with pin satin streamer ribbons.

The bride's mother was attired in a pink lace dress with pink accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink satin dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Glenda Middleton, sister of the bride, presided over the guest book on a pink brocade dress featuring jeweled neckline and matching coat.

Best man was Ronald Roundy, and ushers were Errol Jensen, Gill Lund, Roger Neslen, and John Hancock, with Keith Rodenbeck as head usher. Perry and Ronald Lyons, brothers of the bride, and James Cunningham, brother of the groom served as junior ushers.

The newlyweds greeted guests immediately following the ceremony. The pink and lavender theme of the wedding was carried out in the serving room, where pink lanterns and lavender bows decorated the white clothed tables. Guests were served pink punch and white wedding cake by Misses Linda Nielson, Andrea Cottle, Sharon and Karryn Rolls, and Darlene

Marlowe, then admired the many gifts displayed on the mirrored tables of the gift room by Misses Jane, Carolyn, and Berta Jones, cousins of the bride.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Las Vegas, Nevada. The new Mrs. Cunningham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lyons, former residents of New Madrid and Sikeston, Missouri. She is the sister of Mrs. Larry W. Boyer of Sikeston, Missouri. The bride is a graduate of New Madrid High School.

Mr. Cunningham is a 1965 graduate of East High School of Salt Lake City, Utah and served in the mission field of Canada for two years as a missionary of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He is presently attending the University of Utah. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham are employed by the Cream O'Weber Dairy of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Out of town guests were the Bill Holmans of Pleasant Grove, Utah, the James Hawthornes of Bountiful Utah, and Mrs. Glenda Middleton of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The newlyweds are residing at 2350 South 2nd East, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The wedding will take place in August.

Miss Connie Jane Woods

Connie Woods

Bethrothed

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woods, Bertrand, announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Jane, to Raymond Chapman Arnold.

Miss Woods attended Sikeston High School for two years, and graduated from Charleston High, in 1966. Since then, she has received a diploma from office training school in Cape Girardeau.

Arnold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arnold, Scott City, and a 1959 graduate of Ilmo-Scott City High School. He attended Southeast Missouri State College for three years, and is now employed as a field representative for Montgomery Mobile Homes.

July 18 has been selected as the date for the wedding, which will take place at Fellowship Baptist Church. A reception will follow, at the Ramada Inn.

If you'll get engaged this Spring...

Here is a little help

DIAMOND PRICE FACTS:

Don't spend more than you can afford. A good rule to follow: Spend about a month of your salary on the engagement ring. But make sure you get the most for your money. In the ring style that pleases her most.

DIAMOND BUYING FACTS:

About half of all engagement rings are chosen by boy and girl together. But in many cases the young man buys the diamond alone. Or he talks it over with us first and then brings his girl in for final selection. It's up to you!

DIAMOND STYLING FACTS:

Modern girls are individualists. Some want an absolutely perfect diamond even if it is smaller. Others want the largest stone possible even if it has slight flaws. Some want ultra-modern, others traditional styling. These are the things to talk over with us.

COME IN! AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

We have helped so many young couples. We can help you to come to the right decision. Let your wishes and our experience be the guide. For a lifetime of happiness with your diamond.

While surrounding towns were being drenched in a heavy rain storm, and disturbed by high winds Wednesday morning and again late that afternoon, this city escaped with a light rainfall between midnight Wednesday and Thursday morning. Threatening clouds sent dozens of families scurrying for storm cellars in this city and workers in the fields were seen to drop their work and lie flat in the furrows, but the storm blew over and caused only a little inconvenience by hurling high quantities of sand before it.

Bill Stevens or "Steve," for several months relief operator at the local Western Union office, has been promoted to manager of the Holten, Kas., office, according to L.C. Lear, manager of the Sikeston branch office. Delisle Heiser has been a student at the local office for the past month, and within another four weeks will be ready for his examination and will then stand by for location in some office. A.L. Buckner is the local operator taking the place of Stevens.

Elic Taylor, otherwise known as "Slim," a farm hand on the Grover Baker farm, suffered a painful mishap Wednesday afternoon, when a 41 Colts special went off, tearing through one of the bones in his left hand.

If You Were the Judge Judge Rules Wife Is Not Husband's Keeper

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Rocky had a temper he couldn't keep and no one wanted. The community bully, he was so argumentative he wouldn't even eat food that agreed with him. Consequently, when Timid Tim made the mistake of disagreeing with him, Rocky saw red and began to pummel him. As he began the on-slaught, however, Rocky's wife drove up and Rocky jumped into her car and drove off with her.

Licking his wounds, Tim not only sued Rocky for his injuries, but he sued Rocky's wife as well.

"He must have taken more of a beating than I thought," answered Rocky's wife in court. "He's out of his head. He can't sue me. I never touched him. I didn't even blow my horn at him."

"Maybe not," retorted Tim. "But she knew her husband had a violent and vicious temper. By keeping him around, it was like harboring and sheltering a dangerous animal. And when a person harbors and shelters a dangerous animal, he's responsible for the consequences."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold Rocky's wife responsible for his anti-social conduct?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! He held that a wife is not her husband's keeper.

Today In History By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, June 14, the 166th day of 1969. There are 200 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, the U.S. Army was founded.

On this date: In 1777, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia made the Stars and Stripes the national flag.

In 1846, a group of American settlers at Sonoma, Calif., proclaimed the free Republic of California.

In 1934, Italy's Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler of Nazi Germany met in Vienna, Austria.

In 1940, during World War II, Germans occupied the city of Paris.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered the freezing of German and Italian assets in the United States.

In 1944, American forces in the Pacific began the invasion of Saipan Island in the Marianas.

Ten years ago -- There were devastating floods in Hong Kong.

Five years ago -- Romania released thousands of political prisoners in what appeared to be a move by the Communist regime to win friends in the West.

One year ago -- Dr. Benjamin Spock, the noted baby doctor, and three others were convicted in a Boston federal court of conspiring to counsel young men to evade the draft.

OBITUARIES

ALFRED WESLEY FRANCIS

CHARLESTON — Alfred Wesley Francis, 67, Charleston, died Thursday with heart failure while fishing near Thompson's Bend.

Francis, a retired foreman with Missouri Pacific Railroad, was born Oct. 31, 1901 at Fisk. He had lived in Charleston since 1943.

Francis was a member of the Elm Street Baptist Church, IOOF Lodge and Night Riders of Paul Revere organization.

Surviving are his wife, Florence, a son, Ted Francis, DeSoto, a daughter, Mrs. Brady Corney, Dexter, seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services will be 2 p.m. Sunday at the McKie Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Gary Tolbert officiating. Burial will be at Ash Hill Cemetery near Fisk.

Six Dead in Copter Crash

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Five Navy men and a civilian are dead or missing in the crash of a Navy helicopter on a mercy flight from the attack carrier Constellation to San Diego.

Two bodies were recovered before an air-sea search ended at sunset Friday. The other victims were listed as missing at sea.

The Navy said the big, turbopowered helicopter crashed and sank at 1 a.m. Friday seven miles off the coast, after picking up a seriously injured sailor who had been blown off the Constellation's flight deck by a jet blast.

Searchers found the bodies of the pilot, Lt. Richard A. Fitzsimmons, 26, of Marengo, Ill., and Petty Officer 3c, Larry R. Peterson, 27, of Charleston, Iowa.

Among the missing was the senior medical officer of the carrier, Capt. Andrew W. Stevenson, 46, of Coronado, Calif., who had been promoted to captain five hours before the flight.

Here — There Everywhere In Sports

With E. J. Mays

Hide that lawnmower; burn the garden hoses and hose and sneak away from the little woman this week to the creek, or lake bank boys for, from all reports reaching this desk the fish - crappie, bluegills, bass and catfish are biting good.

Some of the better reports are coming from Kentucky Lake, around the Murray area in the Land Between the Lakes, around the Golden Pond sector; at Reelfoot's Samburg and Walnut Log areas and at Enid Reservoir, near Water Valley, Miss. and Sardis Lake, just off the I-55 Expressway - 8 miles east - near Sardis, Miss.

One of the best fish-getters reported this week is the new Devil Jig lure, being made in Charleston mailcarrier Harry Herwig.

This lure, fished from cane pole, or rod, with only two or three feet of line and dragged around stumps, logs and bushes has been filling stringers in the Bootheel farm ponds and at Kentucky Lake. John Snow of Charleston reported 23 caught, with several released, in a few hours. Shallows were waded to gain some of the catches so the bass apparently aren't afraid of the wader, as evidenced by the three pounds being caught.

Other fishermen report fine reports from fishing shallow water near banks and around spots where small creeks empty into larger creeks or rivers. Here Jitterbugs, Lucky 13's and Bomber's (400 series) are making kills, all FISHED SLOWLY.

DAVIS, SOME COACH

We bumped into an ole pal of sports coverage days -- in Mississippi -- recently via phone in Sikeston in the personage of Kimble "Bud" Davis. We found he is regarded in the Bootheel as a leading promoter of new industries and automobile sales but, when we knew him, he was "one of the best basketball coaches - and referee baiters - we ever knew." The affable disposition could readily change to one of ire and irate declaration, come what he thought was a bad call. In one tourney, with the state junior college championship at stake and the two officials letting the two teams play like they were using "pro rules," one of the opposing players knocked an Itawamba Junior College player of Bud's squad into Bud's lap, without a whistle blowing. Bud's protest brought only a technical foul and opposition possession, converted into a three point play and Bud's crying wet more than one towel over the decision.

Davis is known as "one of the best cage coaches in the country, producing championship contenders at Belmont High School and Itawamba Junior College champs and not getting a shot at a national JC title because of then prevailing restrictions re intergrated participation. One of his pals, told him was a leading automobile dealer in Dexter and Sikeston said, cynically: "He should be. He saw that at least half a dozen outstanding basketball players rode in new cars and then showed up as transfers to Belmont High and Itawamba Junior College."

New Madrid Summer Read Program Set

NEW MADRID - All county grade school age children are invited to take part in the New Madrid County Library's annual summer reading program, which begins Monday in the library's nine branches at Portageville, Marston, New Madrid, Kewanee, Matthews, Morehouse, Canolou, Parma and Risco.

In addition to reading the program will include a story hour and films at most of the branches.

In Kewanee, the program will be held in the Kewanee Methodist Church basement, with Mrs. Hardin in charge. Mrs. Karen Johnston and Miss Lala Lane of the county staff will travel throughout the county to conduct the story hours and show films.

Children who read 10 or more books during the month-long program will be presented a reading certificate. Concluding the program will be a picnic on July 16 in the New Madrid City Park. All children who have participated in the program are invited to attend.

Sixth Slaying Victim Aspired To Aid Youth in Social Work

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Alice Elizabeth Kalom's ambition was "to combat social problems" and she said "an important place to begin this work is with young people and in a location where they are conveniently gathered—the school."

That's why the 21-year-old sixth girl victim of murder in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in less than two years had applied to the University of Michigan to begin graduate study next January toward a master's degree in social work.

She drew a character self-portrait of herself in applying for graduate study, saying she wanted "to explore as many avenues as possible" to better prepare herself for teaching.

Found shot, slashed and raped on an abandoned farm last Monday, she was buried today at Kalamazoo, after funeral services in the First Congregationalist Church in nearby Portage.

Her father, Joseph, is a pharmacist, and her mother, Dorothy, a school librarian in Kalamazoo.

Prosecutor William F. Delhey said there had been "nothing of significance" uncovered Friday that might lead to a solution of her slaying or that of the five other unsolved murders.

Miss Kalom earned a bachelor's degree in art in May and expected to receive a teaching certificate in August, and would have been accepted for graduate work.

Dr. Thomas J. Larkin, professor of art, wrote that he understood "a strong sense of social responsibility which she feels will not be satisfied in her present art field" led to her switch.

In portraying herself, she wrote, in applying for graduate study, that "my first contact with a 'minority group member' was in my own family."

"My father was a Russian Jew who came to live in this country when he was 13 years old."

"My other contacts with members of other minority groups were through my father's pharmacy business. During the summer Mexican and Puerto Ricans came to work in a local canning factory. They traded out from the age of 8 to 9.

"Until I came to the companies to subtract from their university I had no previous contact with Negroes."

"It was my Negro roommate who guided my impressions of Negroes as a group."

"Through my close association with my roommate, I had an opportunity to meet and make friends with a large number of Negroes—men and women."

"Most of the Negroes I met had similar expectations and goals as I did..."

Dr. H.M. Wolowitz, associate professor of clinical psychology and her one-time professor at Michigan, supported her application for graduate school social work.

"I would like to support her application with enthusiasm," he wrote, "both on the grounds of her intellectual and emotional strengths. She...has a strong need to make a contribution in being of professional service to others who are in need of help."
